

End-Of-Summer Time Change Set Saturday Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Most Americans will be getting an extra hour of sleep this Saturday night as they turn their clocks back 60 minutes for the annual end-of-summer switch from Daylight Saving Time to Standard Time.

The exceptions are those citizens living in states that decided they'd rather fight the Uniform Time Act of 1966 than switch to daylight saving every April.

The time act required that all states—except those that exempted themselves—go on daylight time from 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in April to 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October. Congress was trying to clear up some of the confusion surrounding semiannual time changes around the country.

A survey by The Associated Press indicated Friday, however, that as of the end of the first full year of operation, the law hasn't changed much.

It's still a confusing picture. Michigan and South Dakota, for example, exempted themselves for the law. But backers of daylight time circulated petitions demanding a referendum on the issue and kept the exemption from taking effect. The question will be on the ballot in both states Nov. 5.

In South Dakota, retailers campaigning for daylight time have a slogan, "Let's not be out of time with the nation." Opposition is strong, however, in rural areas where farmers complain animals don't get up with the clock.

The problem is even worse in other states split between time zones.

Parts of Indiana now are in the Central Time Zone, parts in the Eastern Time Zone.

The Department of Transportation, which oversees the time act, has tried to regularize the time zones, but has run into opposition from communities oriented to one or the other time and unwilling to change. A decision is pending.

Most of Indiana has been following Eastern Standard Time the year round, but some areas in the northwest and southwest have been on either Central Standard or Central Daylight Time.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk opened the annual parade of policy statements on Oct. 2 with such a blunt dressing down of the Soviet Union that most delegates thought it would touch off a bitter East-West debate.

Rusk denounced the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia as a violation of the U.N. charter and warned the Russians not to interfere in West Germany as they had threatened. He also questioned the new Moscow doctrine that asserted the right of interference in the internal affairs of other Communist states.

Instead of the expected counterblast, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko replied in unusually moderate tones. He managed to take a good deal of the heat out of the Czechoslovak question by making a quick bid for a detente with the West and generally projecting the image of a peaceful power.

Gromyko did not retreat from the Soviet position that the occupation of Czechoslovakia was necessary to maintain the "Soviet Commonwealth." But his remarks about Vietnam were limited to a call for a bombing halt and lacked the usual invective the Communists employ on that topic.

The Soviet minister laid heavy stress on a call for peace through disarmament and arms control. He said the Soviet government is ready to start a "serious exchange of views" with the United States on mutual limitation and reduction of strategic nuclear weapons.

Vietnam was dealt with lightly on all sides this year.

Cite FBI Expert For Contempt

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — George Bonebrake, a senior FBI fingerprint expert, has been ordered to show cause Dec. 6 why he should not be held in contempt for allegedly violating orders prohibiting out-of-court comments on the James Earl Ray case.

Judge W. Preston Battle of Shelby County Criminal Court said it was impracticable to hold the hearing before Ray goes on trial Nov. 12 for murder in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Battle, who will preside at Ray's trial, has issued stringent orders sharply restricting discussion of the case by anyone connected with it. Bonebrake is expected to be a key prosecution witness.

LeMay Slates Ohio Speeches For Ticket

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Third party vice presidential candidate Curtis LeMay returns to his home state today to campaign for the American Independent Party ticket.

LeMay, former Air Force chief of staff, arrives in Cleveland this morning for several campaign stops. He then goes to Columbus, his home town, where he will speak at a party fund raising dinner in the evening.

It is the second time this week one of the AIP candidates has stumped Ohio. George C. Wallace, who heads the ticket, was in Akron Wednesday. Wallace will be in Cincinnati Saturday.

In other developments on the Ohio political scene:

John J. Gilligan said today that if elected to the U.S. Senate he will seek legislation providing criminal penalties and imprisonment for people responsible for poisoning the air and water.

Speaking in Cleveland, the Democratic candidate said voluntary and regulatory controls on pollution have been unsuccessful. He said some 360 companies dump 9.6 billion gallons of waste water into Lake Erie every day, contributing to the death of fish and hampering lake recreation activities.

On air pollution, Gilligan said 23 per cent of the 30 most polluted areas in the nation, "where lung cancer, bronchitis and emphysema thrive, are right here in the 'Wonderful World of Ohio.'"

"Those who are filling the waters and skies with refuse are committing crimes against society as serious as if they intentionally tried to harm their fellow citizens," he said.

William B. Saxbe, the Republican U.S. Senate candidate, blasted the administration today for blocking federal income tax sharing with the states despite demonstrated need.

Saxbe, speaking in Columbus, said a recent report by a non-partisan Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations urged Congress to share federal income with the states and cities without attaching strings on expenditures.

Quiet Sub Is Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford ordered the Navy today to develop a new nuclear submarine designed to operate more quietly than any vessel of its kind.

The new warship, referred to as a turbine electric drive submarine, will cost $150 million to $200 million, or nearly triple the $78 million price tag for the latest nuclear attack subs.

The defense chief told a news conference he had reviewed the possible need as well as the cost of the submarine "and I have now decided to go forward with the program."

The decision marked a triumph for the Navy's nuclear ship expert, Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, who has been highly critical in the past of Pentagon civilians whom he accused of holding back on submarine construction.

There had been reports lately that Clifford's systems analysis office wanted to kill the quiet sub project. Clifford said, however, he was not going to comment on what recommendations had been made within the Defense Department.

Love Triangle Disclosed In Slaying

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Federal agents said a 21-year-old Cincinnati laboratory technician was arrested in Cincinnati today on a secret grand jury indictment charging him with mailing a bomb which killed Daniel J. Ronec of Lorain last July.

Orville E. Stifel II, a former boyfriend of Cheryl Jones of Youngstown, Ronec's fiancée, was accused of mailing the bomb with intent to kill.

Ronec, 23, a teacher at Central Junior High School in Cleveland, was killed July 8 when he opened a package containing a bomb at his Lorain home.

U.S. Atty. Bernard J. Stuplinski and Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert S. Turf, who presented the case to the federal grand jury, said investigations revealed a college love triangle involving Stifel, Ronec and Miss Jones, with Stifel a rejected and jealous suitor.

Stifel worked as a laboratory technician for Proctor & Gamble Co., in Cincinnati. He was attending the University of Cincinnati at nights to finish up for a degree at Ohio University this fall.

Investigators said Stifel had been introduced to Miss Jones, 23, now a senior at Ohio University, by mutual friends in 1965 when the accused was attending Ohio University in Athens.

Motorcycle Club Raided In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police, sheriff's deputies and FBI agents raided a near-downtown headquarters of a motorcycle gang Thursday night and confiscated guns, dynamite and hand grenades.

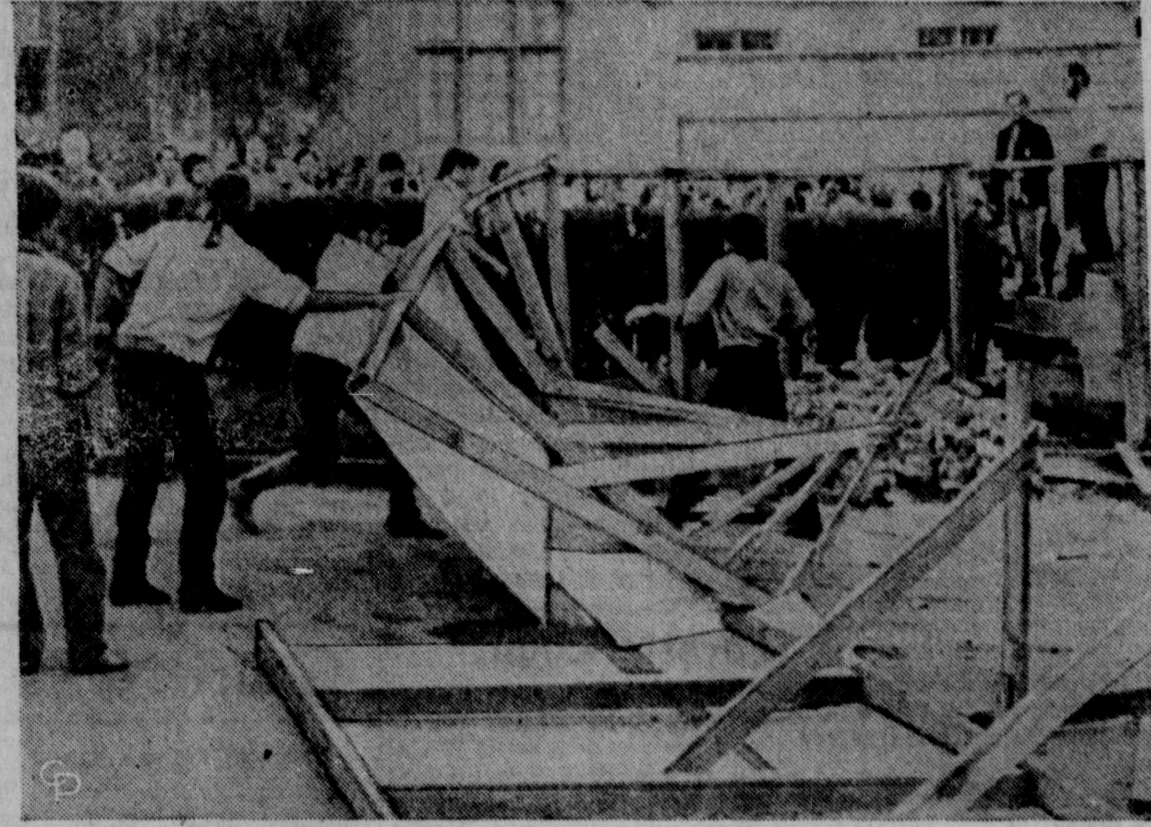

Police reported that seven persons, four men and three women, were taken into custody for questioning. They were not identified.

Among the items confiscated were rifles, pistols, shotguns, dynamite, blasting caps, hand grenades and a variety of motorcycle parts, police reported.

Nixon Pledges Reorganized Pentagon, Stronger Nation

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, indicting Democratic handling of national defense, pledges a major reorganization of the Pentagon, more influence for top military officers, and more missiles, warplanes and nuclear submarines, if elected.

The Republican presidential candidate, in a nationwide CBS radio broadcast Thursday night, accused the administrations of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson of "creating a security gap for America"—a phrase reminiscent of Kennedy's 1960 contention that the presidency of Dwight D. Eisenhower had created a missile gap.

In his most extensive discussion to date of defense policy, Nixon argued that the military decisions of the Kennedy and Johnson teams have put the nation in such straits that by 1970 or 1971 it might even face a "survival gap."

Unless he's elected on Nov. 5, Nixon says, Americans might discover "that we are irretrievably behind in the most critical areas in a few years."

Nixon flew to New York Thursday night after touring 157 miles through eastern Pennsylvania, making four formal appearances and eight impromptu stops.

The crowds were good and generally receptive. But there were some sour notes, notably scuffling in the audience at Reading where 10 persons were injured slightly and two men were arrested and charged with assault on a state police sergeant. Police said they did not know what started the fighting.

The GOP candidate will be in New York three more nights. On Friday night he makes a live television broadcast to 10 states and the District of Columbia. Saturday he will be driving to rallies in suburban New Jersey. And on Sunday he will appear live on the CBS-TV "Face the Nation" program—his first appearance before a panel of reporters on television since 1966. In his radio speech Nixon said that "in recent years our country has followed policies which now threaten to make America second best both in numbers and quality of major weapons."

The nominee said that the United States under Democratic administrations has gone from first to second in bombers, first to second in tactical aircraft, has virtually lost a 50 per cent advantage in intercontinental ballistic missiles and is steadily losing its advantage in nuclear submarines.

The United States, he said, has produced only one new tactical aircraft since the Eisenhower administration "while the Soviets have put out seven."

Wallace New York Rally Most Enthusiastic Yet

NEW YORK (AP)—George C. Wallace, protected by the heaviest police detail assigned any candidate this year, received thunderous cheers in Madison Square Garden from supporters who drowned out the boos of hecklers in a tumultuous rally Thursday night.

Unbothered by the dissidents inside, and apparently unaware of several thousand demonstrators outside, the third-party presidential candidate, appearing with his running mate, Curtis E. LeMay, listened with obvious relish to waves of cheers from a less than capacity crowd.

The evening was easily the emotional highpoint thus far in the Wallace campaign and the crowd was one of the most responsive Wallace has attracted.

Whisked into the arena through a side entrance under a heavy police guard, Wallace did not see the scuffles between pickets and police outside.

At one point, mobs pushed through barricades and pelted police with eggs, tomatoes, rocks and bottles. Police said 25 persons were arrested inside and outside the Garden and charged on various disorderly conduct counts. One policeman and four other persons were treated for minor injuries.

Several groups of hecklers in the arena, surrounded by helmeted police who shielded them from the Wallace supporters, chanted anti-Wallace slogans.

The former Alabama governor said "Don't worry about them, I can drown them out." And, he and his vocal audience did.

The Secret Service, according to a Wallace aide, estimated the crowd at 14,000. The Garden holds 20,000. About 2,500 seats were roped off and unoccupied for security reasons.

Frosty Chill Covers Much Of Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A frosty chill settled over much of the Midwest today and sent a wave of crisp temperatures into fringes of the Deep South.

Rain washed the Eastern Seaboard and portions of the eastern Great Lakes in advance of the cold air which was expected to overspread those regions by Saturday morning.

Temperatures sank into the middle 20s across much of Wisconsin where the community of Lone Rock, in the state's southwest, registered 25 well before daybreak. Readings in the low 30s extended over central Illinois and into the middle Mississippi Valley.

The Weather Bureau had issued frost warnings Thursday night for all of Arkansas, northern Mississippi and extreme northern Alabama and Georgia. Flakes of snow dusted sections of Michigan's Upper Peninsula after a day in which the mercury failed to rise out of the 30s.

By contrast, Southern California sizzled into the middle and upper 90s Thursday for the second day in a row. Los Angeles recorded 98.

Planes Hit Many Targets As Skies Clear

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers took advantage of improved weather to deal North Vietnam's supply lines some of the heaviest blows given them in several weeks, military spokesmen reported today.

While reports from Washington said lack of agreement on two major points is blocking a complete halt to American bombing of the North, U.S. pilots logged 122 missions between the demilitarized zone and the 19th parallel Thursday.

The improved weather, with scattered clouds at 3,000 feet, continued today as U.S. jets kept up their attacks on North Vietnamese trucks, boats, storage areas, highways and bridges. Reports on today's strikes will not be announced until Saturday.

The Air Force, Navy and Marine bombers also struck at trucks and boats ferrying arms and ammunition toward South Vietnam. Pilots reported smashing at least 39 boats and trucks and four bridges, and touching off numerous secondary explosions and fires, indicating hits on fuel and ammunition stores.

Predict Taft To Campaign For Governor

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sources close to U.S. Rep. Robert A. Taft, R-Ohio, say the Cincinnati congressman's speech at a $100-a-plate dinner here Thursday night could be his opening blast in a bid for the governor's office in 1970.

Taft substituted as the dinner speaker for New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, who cancelled his Cleveland engagement and others in Ohio because of labor troubles in his city.

"Some of the reasons why John Lindsay cannot be in Cleveland tonight," Taft said, "vividly illustrates the serious failures of Democratic control of the nation to offer adequate solutions to the problems of our big cities."

The congressman said that so much of the available tax income has been consumed by the federal government that local governments "must nibble at the stubble left in the field."

He said that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey "offers more of the same" and any Democratic congress would proceed "down the same path of higher taxes, higher spending and more federal domination."

Taft told a news conference earlier that he was taking his elections "one at a time," but sources close to him said he would start soon after the Nov. 5 election to plan a campaign for governor in 1970.

Negro Queen Refuses Duty

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The University of Michigan's Negro Homecoming Queen of 1967 refused Thursday night to crown her white successor.

Traditionally the outgoing queen places the crown on the head of the incoming queen, but Opal C. Bailey of Washington, D.C., merely handed it over to Nancy L. Sebald of Creston, Ohio.

A hassle over selection of the 1968 homecoming queen developed Monday when Janice Parker of Detroit, a Negro chosen "first attendant" to Miss Bailey last year, withdrew from the 1968 competition because "discriminatory questions" asked by judges.

Bright Colors Set For Queen Elizabeth

Until now, it has been a rigid rule that British royalty wear pale pastels because they stand out better and can be seen from the back of a crowd.

Most Electors Free To Bargain If Election Deadlocks

WASHINGTON (AP) — If attempts are made in the Electoral College to bargain in selecting a president, most electors will be free to vote for whomever they choose, regardless of the winner in their own states.

Electors are bound to the popular outcome in only 16 states and the District of Columbia.

And of those, only Florida, New Mexico and Oklahoma provide penalties for failing to follow their own states' election results.

Attention has focused lately on possible bargaining for electors' support because of the chance that none of the three presidential candidates may get a clear electoral majority after the November election.

If it appears that no presidential candidate won enough states to guarantee his election, then efforts could be made to get some electors to change their support before the Electoral College votes later in the year.

Only two electors have refused to follow their state's choices in recent times.

Oklahoma's law was passed after an elector insisted on voting for the late Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., although Republican Richard M. Nixon carried the state.

Oklahoma now requires that each elector be pledged to vote for the candidate who carries the state under penalty of a fine up to $1,000.

Th other elector who kicked over the traces was a Tennessee who refused to vote for Harry S. Truman in 1948 and voted instead for the States Rights candidate.

Tennessee still does not have a penalty for similar action.

The U.S. Constitution says nothing about tying electors to a particular candidate for president, and historians agree that the Founding Fathers intended to set up a panel of free agents to exercise individual judgment in selecting a president and vice president.

But the right of states to pass laws giving directions to their electors has been upheld in courts.

Florida has the stiffest-reading law of all.

It says the names of the candidates "for whom the electors will vote if elected" are printed on the ballot. An elector convicted of violating the law could be guilty of a felony.

The New Mexico statute says the electors "must cast their ballots . . . for the candidates of the party which said electors represent" and any elector violating the provision "shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor."

In the other states which apply restrictions there are these rules for electors:

Arkansas—"shall vote for the candidates of the political party which they represent."

Colorado—are "required to vote for . . . candidates who received the highest number of votes at the preceding general election in Colorado."

Connecticut—shall vote "for the candidates under whose name he ran on the official election ballot."

District of Columbia—must swear or affirm that he will "vote for the candidates of the party he has been nominated to"

Lynda Bird Gives Birth To Daughter

WASHINGTON (AP) — A squalling, ruddy girl with black hair was born today to Lynda Bird Robb, touching off a round of free cigars handed out by beaming grandfather and father.

The grandfather, President Lyndon B. Johnson, announced the birth himself to newsmen at suburban Bethesda Naval Medical Center.

The father, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, was in his tin-roofed office of the 1st Marine Division's supply section in Vietnam.

Robb's first reaction? "It's a tradition here," he said. "Outstanding is the word we use."

"Very happy" were the words Johnson used to describe the family. The 24-year-old mother "seems to be quite normal and relaxed about it all," he said.

The little girl, who weighed 7 pounds, 8 ounces and measured 20 inches long, wasn't named.

Asked what names were under consideration, Robb replied, "I'll have to let Lynda answer that one, since she's had custody for the last nine months."

Three Navy doctors and two anesthesiologists attended the birth at 12:03 a.m.

Within a half an hour, Robb had a telephone call from Lt. Gen. Lewis Walt, Marine deputy commandant, informing him of the birth.

Unbothered by the dissidents inside, and apparently unaware of several thousand demonstrators outside, the third-party presidential candidate, appearing with his running mate, Curtis E. LeMay, listened with obvious relish to waves of cheers from a less than capacity crowd.

The evening was easily the emotional highpoint thus far in the Wallace campaign and the crowd was one of the most responsive Wallace has attracted.

Whisked into the arena through a side entrance under a heavy police guard, Wallace did not see the scuffles between pickets and police outside.

At one point, mobs pushed through barricades and pelted police with eggs, tomatoes, rocks and bottles. Police said 25 persons were arrested inside and outside the Garden and charged on various disorderly conduct counts. One policeman and four other persons were treated for minor injuries.

Several groups of hecklers in the arena, surrounded by helmeted police who shielded them from the Wallace supporters, chanted anti-Wallace slogans.

The former Alabama governor said "Don't worry about them, I can draw them out." And, he and his vocal audience did.

The Secret Service, according to a Wallace aide, estimated the crowd at 14,000. The Garden holds 20,000. About 2,500 seats were roped off and unoccupied for security reasons.

Planes Hit Many Targets As Skies Clear

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers took advantage of improved weather to deal North Vietnam's supply lines some of the heaviest blows given them in several weeks, military spokesmen reported today.

While reports from Washington said lack of agreement on two major points is blocking a complete halt to American bombing of the North, U.S. pilots logged 122 missions between the demilitarized zone and the 19th parallel Thursday.

The improved weather, with scattered clouds at 3,000 feet, continued today as U.S. jets kept up their attacks on North Vietnamese trucks, boats, storage areas, highways and bridges. Reports on today's strikes will not be announced until Saturday.

The Air Force, Navy and Marine bombers also struck at trucks and boats ferrying arms and ammunition toward South Vietnam. Pilots reported smashing at least 39 boats and trucks and four bridges, and touching off numerous secondary explosions and fires, indicating hits on fuel and ammunition stores.

Predict Taft To Campaign For Governor

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sources close to U.S. Rep. Robert A. Taft, R-Ohio, say the Cincinnati congressman's speech at a $100-a-plate dinner here Thursday night could be his opening blast in a bid for the governor's office in 1970.

Taft substituted as the dinner speaker for New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, who cancelled his Cleveland engagement and others in Ohio because of labor troubles in his city.

"Some of the reasons why John Lindsay cannot be in Cleveland tonight," Taft said, "vividly illustrates the serious failures of Democratic control of the nation to offer adequate solutions to the problems of our big cities."

The congressman said that so much of the available tax income has been consumed by the federal government that local governments "must nibble at the stubble left in the field."

He said that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey "offers more of the same" and any Democratic congress would proceed "down the same path of higher taxes, higher spending and more federal domination."

Taft told a news conference earlier that he was taking his elections "one at a time," but sources close to him said he would start soon after the Nov. 5 election to plan a campaign for governor in 1970.

Negro Queen Refuses Duty

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The University of Michigan's Negro Homecoming Queen of 1967 refused Thursday night to crown her white successor.

Traditionally the outgoing queen places the crown on the head of the incoming queen, but Opal C. Bailey of Washington, D.C., merely handed it over to Nancy L. Sebald of Creston, Ohio.

A hassle over selection of the 1968 homecoming queen developed Monday when Janice Parker of Detroit, a Negro chosen "first attendant" to Miss Bailey last year, withdrew from the 1968 competition because "discriminatory questions" asked by judges.

Bright Colors Set For Queen Elizabeth

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II will break a royal tradition when she visits Brazil and Chile next month by wearing hot, bright colors.

Until now, it has been a rigid rule that British royalty wear pale pastels because they stand out better and can be seen from the back of a crowd.

U.N. To End Policy Debates

Lack Of Heat Proves Surprise

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The General Assembly today winds up a general policy debate that opened three weeks ago on a note of crisis but turned into one of the mildest such exchanges in U.N. history.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk opened the annual parade of policy statements on Oct. 2 with such a blunt dressing down of the Soviet Union that most delegates thought it would touch off a bitter East-West debate.

Rusk denounced the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia as a violation of the U.N. charter and warned the Russians not to interfere in West Germany as they had threatened. He also questioned the new Moscow doctrine that asserted the right of interference in the internal affairs of other Communist states.

Instead of the expected counterblast, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko replied in unusually moderate tones. He managed to take a good deal of the heat out of the Czechoslovak question by making a quick bid for a detente with the West and generally projecting the image of a peaceful power.

Gromyko did not retreat from the Soviet position that the occupation of Czechoslovakia was necessary to maintain the "Soviet Commonwealth." But his remarks about Vietnam were limited to a call for a bombing halt and lacked the usual invective the Communists employ on that topic.

The Soviet minister laid heaviest stress on a call for peace through disarmament and arms control. He said the Soviet government is ready to start a "serious exchange of views" with the United States on mutual limitation and reduction of strategic nuclear weapons.

Vietnam was dealt with lightly on all sides this year.

Cite FBI Expert For Contempt

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — George Bonebrake, a senior FBI fingerprint expert, has been ordered to show cause Dec. 6 why he should not be held in contempt for allegedly violating orders prohibiting out-of-court comments on the James Earl Ray case.

Judge W. Preston Battle of Shelby County Criminal Court said it was impracticable to hold the hearing before Ray goes on trial Nov. 12 for murder in the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Battle, who will preside at Ray's trial, has issued stringent orders sharply restricting discussion of the case by anyone connected with it. Bonebrake is expected to be a key prosecution witness.

Most Electors Free To Bargain If Election Deadlocks

WASHINGTON (AP) — If attempts are made in the Electoral College to bargain in selecting a president, most electors will be free to vote for whomever they choose, regardless of the winner in their own states.

Electors are bound to the popular outcome in only 16 states and the District of Columbia.

And of those, only Florida, New Mexico and Oklahoma provide penalties for failing to follow their own states' election results.

Attention has focused lately on possible bargaining for electors' support because of the chance that none of the three presidential candidates may get a clear electoral majority after the November election.

If it appears that no presidential candidate won enough states to guarantee his election, then efforts could be made to get some electors to change their support before the Electoral College votes later in the year.

Only two electors have refused to follow their state's choices in recent times.

Oklahoma's law was passed after an elector insisted on voting for the late Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., although Republican Richard M. Nixon carried the state.

Oklahoma now requires that each elector be pledged to vote for the candidate who carries the state under penalty of a fine up to $1,000.

Th other elector who kicked over the traces was a Tennessee who refused to vote for Harry S. Truman in 1948 and voted instead for the States Rights candidate.

Tennessee still does not have a penalty for similar action.

The U.S. Constitution says nothing about tying electors to a particular candidate for president, and historians agree that the Founding Fathers intended to set up a panel of free agents to exercise individual judgment in selecting a president and vice president.

But the right of states to pass laws giving directions to their electors has been upheld in courts.

Florida has the stiffest reading law of all.

It says the names of the can-dates "for whom the electors will vote if elected" are printed on the ballot. An elector convicted of violating the law could be guilty of a felony.

The New Mexico statute says the electors "must cast their ballots . . . for the candidates of the party which said electors represent" and any elector violating the provision "shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor."

In the other states which apply restrictions there are these rules for electors:

Arkansas—"shall vote for the candidates of the political party which they represent."

Colorado—"are required to vote for . . . candidates who received the highest number of votes at the preceding general election in Colorado."

Connecticut—"shall vote 'for the candidates under whose name he ran on the official election ballot.'"

District of Columbia—"must swear or affirm that he will 'vote for the candidates of the party he has been nominated to

HHH Raises $1.5 Million To Push White House Drive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An intensive week of campaigning by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has helped raise an estimated $1.5 million to fuel the last stage of his drive for the White House.

Humphrey plans to use the money for a heavy schedule of television appearances and advertisements in an effort to overcome the lead the polls give his Republican rival, Richard M. Nixon.

The Democratic candidate cut short a California visit today and headed East a day early. A campaign official said the extra day would be used to film some of the television appearances for later showing.

The reason given for canceling a day's campaigning in the San Francisco-Oakland area was a labor dispute involving employees of the San Francisco hotel where the Humphrey entourage planned to stay. Humphrey would have had to cross a picket line to enter the hotel.

Canceled by the sudden schedule switch was a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in San Francisco tonight. The tickets had already been sold but a campaign spokesman said the money for them is not included in the $1.5 million raised this week. Humphrey said he would go to San Francisco before Election Day to make good on the dinner.

The big fund-raising week started with a $1,000-a-plate dinner in New York City and included a $100-a-plate luncheon in Fort Worth, Tex., a private breakfast at which 150 Southern Californians paid as much as $1,000 each, and a $500 a ticket ball in Beverly Hills.

It winds up tonight with a $100 plate affair in Albuquerque, N.M.

Humphrey's California visit, which ends with a stop at San Jose today, was aimed at winning voting support among Negroes, Mexican-Americans and labor.

Wedding Plans, Birthday Upset By Accident

An Ashville area man enjoying his birthday and a young Lockbourne airman out to buy a wedding ring and rent an apartment for his girl had their Circleville-Lockbourne Road near plans interrupted Thursday when they collided on Cir-Weigand Road.

Judy Strugell, 20, Ashville, a passenger in the serviceman's car, received a lacerated knee and ankle in the accident. She was treated by a family physician.

Alva May, Route 1, Ashville, celebrating his 72nd birthday, was northbound on Circleville-Lockbourne Road on his way to a Grange meeting.

May told Chief Deputy George Linder that he reached the entrance to the Grange parking area about 5:45 p.m. He stated that he slowed down and then made a left turn across the southbound lane.

John Piszczek, 22, Lockbourne AFB, said that he was southbound at the time of the accident. He told the deputy that he saw he May vehicle slowing down and thought that it would stop. The two cars collided in the southbound lane.

May, who was cited for failure to yield the right of way, stated he didn't see the Piszczek car because of a third vehicle pulling onto the road from the Grange parking area just before he made his turn.

dropped 500-pound bombs on three gasoline storage tanks 15 miles south of Vinh, and huge fireballs rose into the air.

The pilots said at least 10,000 gallons of gasoline were destroyed.

With more such raids on the north planned for Saturday, reports from Washington said President Johnson is still seeking assurances from Hanoi on de-escalation before halting the bombing of North Vietnam below the 19th parallel. Responsible authorities also said there is no agreement on including the South Vietnamese government and the Viet Cong's political arm, the National Liberation Front, in the next phase of the Paris peace talks.

Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker held another long meeting with President Nguyen Van Thieu today amid signs that Saigon as well as Hanoi is blocking the U.S. peace offensive.

Meanwhile, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces kept up their pressure on enemy ground forces despite a continuing lull in enemy operations, and military spokesmen reported the allies have killed at least 447 North Vietnamese in the past three days in the northeast corner of South Vietnam.

Fayette County Honors 4-Her

Wednesday was "Nancy Campbell Day" in Fayette County when Governor Rhodes honored the Fayette County 4-Her.

Nancy, a senior at Miami Trace High School, had this special day set aside in her honor statewide for her accomplishments in the 1968 Ohio State Fair where her 220-pound pig, Ralph, was proclaimed grand champion barrow and sold for $20 a pound — the highest price ever paid for an animal at any livestock show or exposition in the country.

A banquet honoring Nancy and 1969 Ohio State Fair Queen, Marsha Jenks, also of Fayette County, was arranged by and held at the Pure Oil Plaza restaurant operated by Tom McNew who purchased the prize-winning animal for $4,400. Nearly 100 guests enjoyed the dinner which featured an entree of pork chops from Ralph.

Nancy has been in 4-H work for eight years. She was referred to by Gov. Rhodes as "one of the finest young ladies I've ever met" and referring to the reason for the occasion — "moments like these more than compensate for every bit of time and effort that go into the job of being governor."

Following graduation from high school, Nancy plans to attend Ohio State University and major in secondary education.

Jaycees Hold Regular Meeting

The Circleville Jaycees held their regular bi-monthly meeting last night in the Club Room. President Asa Elsea received reports of all active committees and reported that the next regional Jaycee meeting will be held at the Coventry Inn in Columbus on Oct. 27.

Dr. Bob Liggett submitted a plan for approval on the annual Santa House and Parade.

Elsea also announced that the State Outstanding Young Farmer will be held here in Circleville and that the Distinguished Service Award Banquet will be held Jan. 20 with Jerry Leist chairman.

The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 7, which will be a dinner meeting with the Jaycees wives.

LBJ Sets TV Plug For Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who said he dropped out of the presidential race because he couldn't spare any time for his office for personal politics, is going on television to plug Hubert H. Humphrey.

Johnson announced the television appearance at a news conference Thursday when he also gave an assessment of problems standing in the way of peace in Vietnam and a discourse on law enforcement.

Johnson said the television appearance is set for Nov. 3 at 8:30 p.m. EST, the Sunday before the election, over NBC. He already has made a radio speech for Humphrey over NBC and makes a radio speech on CBS at 7:35 p.m. EST this Sunday.

In announcing last March he would not seek re-election Johnson said:

"I do not believe that I should devote an hour or a day of my time to any personal partisan causes or to any duties other than the awesome duties of this office."

Standing before the big table in the cabinet room Thursday with the White House rose garden behind him beyond the portals, the President said there has been "no basic change, no breakthrough" in the Paris peace talks.

But "We are working hard and diligently and earnestly," he said.

Johnson predicted a Humphrey victory after a question about the possibility the three-way race involving Republican Richard M. Nixon and Independent George C. Wallace might wind up in the House of Representatives.

The President said he hopes it doesn't, and added: "I think Mr. Humphrey, in the days ahead, will eliminate the necessity of the House making any judgment on it."

Politics, in one form or another, took up more than half of the time at the news conference, with a question on "law and order" drawing the President's longest single response.

The President said he was not commenting on statements of individual campaigners and then launched into a long discussion of the crime problem.

Propose Female Aquanauts For Fun Under The Ocean

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Officers of the Navy's Sealab 3 think they have the answer to one of the great problems facing men who will spend long weeks at great depths under the sea. The problem: boredom when they're not working.

The answer: female aquanauts.

The intriguing situation arose at a news conference Thursday as officials disclosed technical problems have delayed lowering of the 57-foot-long Habitat until mid-November or later.

Five teams of eight or nine men are scheduled to spend 12 days each in the cylindrical sea hut at a depth of 600 feet near San Clemente Island off the Southern California coast.

On their return to the surface they will have to spend six days in decompression chambers, getting rid of atmospheric gases forced into their tissues by pressures 19 times that at the surface.

During that period one of their big problems will be boredom, as it will be for future undersea workers in mining and drilling operations.

Capt. Grady H. Lowe, commander of the Naval Undersea Warfare Center at nearby Pasadena, suggested that the best solution would be female as well as male aquanauts.

Capt. George F. Bond, medical officer for Sealab 3 and its forerunners, said the Navy has no plans to use women in any deep-diving occupation, "but I see no reason why they could not do the work."

"I think this may come very soon," he said, "as coeducational academic institutions go more and more into oceanography."

Former astronaut Scott Carpenter, a Navy commander who spent a record 30 days in Sealab

2 at a depth of 205 feet off La Jolla, Calif., in 1965, disagreed with Bond's observation that female aquanauts probably are not needed "at this time."

"That," said Carpenter, "depends entirely on your viewpoint."

Firemen Douse Automobile Fire

The Circleville Fire Department doused an automobile fire 7:10 p.m. Thursday on Ridgewood Drive.

The car, owned by Juanita McGuire, 833 Atwater Ave., backfired through the carburetor, igniting gasoline. Damage to the auto was estimated at $25 by firefighters.

At 5:50 p.m. the firefighters were alerted that a natural gas regulator had been broken when hit by a car at the Lancaster Pike Shopping Center.

Forger Tried, Given 3 Year Probation

Forgery charges were brought against Clarence Castle, Columbus, in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Friday morning.

Castle, who had been indicted at the Oct. 11, meeting of the September Grand Jury, entered a plea of guilty to the forgery charge at his arraignment.

The defendant had forged the endorsement on the back of a check written by a Columbus service station. The check, for $47, was cashed at the G. C. Murphy Company on July 10.

City Policeman Wesley Barton stated that the check was one of 14 stolen from the Columbus service station this summer. Castle is presently free on bond for another forgery charge in Columbus, Barton stated.

A sentence of six months in the county jail and three years probation was imposed by Judge William Ammer.

Castle had previously been placed on three year's probation by Judge Ammer in March, 1965 for issuing a check without an account.

Probation on the earlier charge ended about three months prior to the last offense.

Motorist Fined Jailed For DWI

Charles H. Hamilton, 31, 441 Watt St., was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to five days in the county jail and had his operator's license suspended for three years by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Thursday.

Hamilton pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

In addition, Hamilton was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to five days in the county jail for driving a motor vehicle when his license was under suspension. The two jail sentences are to run concurrently.

Fayette County Honors 4-Her

Wednesday was "Nancy Campbell Day" in Fayette County when Governor Rhodes honored the Fayette County 4-Her.

Nancy, a senior at Miami Trace High School, had this special day set aside in her honor statewide for her accomplishments in the 1968 Ohio State Fair where her 220-pound pig, Ralph, was proclaimed grand champion barrow and sold for $20 a pound — the highest price ever paid for an animal at any livestock show or exposition in the country.

A banquet honoring Nancy and 1969 Ohio State Fair Queen, Marsha Jenks, also of Fayette County, was arranged by and held at the Pure Oil Plaza restaurant operated by Tom McNew who purchased the prize-winning animal for $4,400. Nearly 100 guests enjoyed the dinner which featured an entree of pork chops from Ralph.

Nancy has been in 4-H work for eight years. She was referred to by Gov. Rhodes as "one of the finest young ladies I've ever met" and referring to the reason for the occasion — "moments like these more than compensate for every bit of time and effort that go into the job of being governor."

Following graduation from high school, Nancy plans to attend Ohio State University and major in secondary education.

The Circleville Jaycees held their regular bi-monthly meeting last night in the Club Room. President Asa Elzea received reports of all active committees and reported that the next regional Jaycee meeting will be held at the Coventry Inn in Columbus on Oct. 27.

Dr. Bob Liggett submitted a plan for approval on the annual Santa House and Parade. Elzea also announced that the State Outstanding Young Farmer will be held here in Circleville and that the Distinguished Service Award Banquet will be held Jan. 20 with Jerry Leist chairman.

The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 7, which will be a dinner meeting with the Jaycees wives.

LBJ Sets TV Plug For Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, who said he dropped out of the presidential race because he couldn't spare any time from his office for personal politics, is going on television to plug Hubert H. Humphrey.

Johnson announced the television appearance at a news conference Thursday when he also gave an assessment of problems standing in the way of peace in Vietnam and a discourse on law enforcement.

Johnson said the television appearance is set for Nov. 3 at 8:30 p.m. EST, the Sunday before the election, over NBC. He already has made a radio speech for Humphrey over NBC and makes a radio speech on CBS at 7:35 p.m. EST this Sunday.

In announcing last March he would not seek re-election Johnson said:

"I do not believe that I should devote an hour or a day of my time to any personal partisan causes or to any duties other than the awesome duties of this office."

Standing before the big table in the cabinet room Thursday with the White House rose garden behind him beyond the portals, the President said there has been "no basic change, no

But "We are working hard and diligently and earnestly," he said.

Johnson predicted a Humphrey victory after a question about the possibility the three-way race involving Republican Richard M. Nixon and Independent George C. Wallace might wind up in the House of Representatives.

The President said he hopes it doesn't, and added: "I think Mr. Humphrey, in the days ahead, will eliminate the necessity of the House making any judgment on it."

Politics, in one form or another, took up more than half of the time at the news conference, with a question on "law and order" drawing the President's longest single response.

The President said he was not commenting on statements of individual campaigners and then launched into a long discussion of the crime problem.

Propose Female Aquanauts For Fun Under The Ocean

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Officers of the Navy's Sealab 3 think they have the answer to one of the great problems facing men who will spend long weeks at great depths under the sea.

The problem: boredom when they're not working.

The answer: female aquanauts.

The intriguing situation arose at a news conference Thursday as officials disclosed technical problems have delayed lowering of the 57-foot-long Habitat until mid-November or later.

Five teams of eight or nine men are scheduled to spend 12 days each in the cylindrical sea hut at a depth of 600 feet near San Clemente Island off the Southern California coast.

On their return to the surface they will have to spend six days in decompression chambers, getting rid of atmospheric gases forced into their tissues by pressures 19 times that at the surface.

During that period one of their big problems will be boredom, as it will be for future undersea workers in mining and drilling operations.

Capt. Grady H. Lowe, commander of the Naval Undersea Warfare Center at nearby Pasadena, suggested that the best solution would be female as well as male aquanauts.

Capt. George F. Bond, medical officer for Sealab 3 and its forerunners, said the Navy has no plans to use women in any deep-diving occupation, "but I see no reason why they could not do the work."

"I think this may come very soon," he said, "as coeducational academic institutions go more and more into oceanography."

Village Solons Discuss Added License Fee

The additional $5 license fee was discussed by Ashville Village Council when they met in regular session Monday night.

It was pointed out that if the village councilmen exercised its option to levy the fee, the local residents would be assured of receiving a 100 percent benefit locally. Council agreed to table the matter until the next meeting in order to get some public reaction.

In other action it was agreed that steps could be taken in preparation for the sale of bonds for water plant construction. Demands on the present facilities have reached a maximum safety level and engineers have advised that necessary plant improvements cannot be postponed any longer.

In additional business solicitor of the village recommended that council accept the $3,000 government offer for sanitary sewer line construction to start at the earliest possible time. The advance money would be used for engineering services and plans. Council authorized the engineering planning to proceed without delay.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Nabors, who is preparing to graduate from country-style comic to next season's variety show host, appeared in a CBS special Thursday night mostly as a song and dance man.

But, just to let the "Gomer Pyle" fans know that under the fancy city clothes there was the same homespun innocent, he occasionally broke out his high-pitched voice and called his lady guest stars "ma'am."

The hour concentrated on musical numbers with Nabors using his excellent singing voice in everything from opera to pop.

He was at the center of a merry, artfully produced program and worked well with Carol Burnett, Debbie Reynolds, Mary Costa and Vikki Carr.

After a couple of seasons watching Nabors specials, his deep singing voice is no surprise, but there is always some shock when he acquires himself so well in the dance numbers. He worked with the chorus girls with ease and grace.

The nonmusical sketches didn't amount to much, but a series of commercial jingles to the music of Wagner, Strauss and other composers of Operatic classics, was bright and to the point.

In the Nabors show, the cast took off on a remedy for tension — to the music of Rossini — and made hilarious fuss of a mouth wash sales pitch — to Strauss music and in Sudent Prince costumes.

By coincidence, the program that followed on another network also poked a bit of fun at commercials. It was ABC's "That Girl." Marlo Thomas, still playing a stagestruck girl, was hired to do some TV commercials which involved jumping from airplanes, dropping off a cliff and otherwise acting like some of the bemused characters frequently sighted during station breaks.

Johnny Carson, on his NBC show the other night, wandered into some off-the-cuff comment about current commercials, in particular expressing his dislike for the specifics illustrated in some antiperspirant commercials.

He was agast, too, at the offer of a mouth wash manufacturer to have viewers send in the name of associates who "offend," as they daintily call it, and let the impersonal company break the bad news.

Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon, who has not appeared on network news-interview shows for the past two years, has accepted an invitation to appear on the CBS evening edition of "Face the Nation" on Sunday, 6:30-7 EDT. The other two candidates have already appeared on the program.

Curtis E. LeMay, running for vice president on George Wallace's ticket, will be the guest on the noon edition of the program.

Doubt Humphrey Can Pull Off Truman-Type Victory

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In spite of many similarities between the presidential campaigns of 1968 and 1948, changed voting patterns are likely to make it difficult for Hubert H. Humphrey to duplicate Harry S. Truman's stunning upset victory.

The national opinion polls show Republican Richard M. Nixon a running substantially ahead now as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was believed to be in 1948.

Democrats hope that candidates for governor and Congress will pull Vice President Humphrey to a plurality in closely contested states as some of them aided Truman in critical areas in 1948.

One factor is the possibility some development might give Humphrey a last-minute surge, perhaps a Vietnam bombing halt that could promise some real progress toward peace.

Without this, Humphrey counts heavily on some local Democratic candidates to provide him with the kind of coat-tail help that Adlai E. Stevenson, running for governor, and Paul Douglas, running for the Senate, gave Truman in Illinois in 1948.

In that year, Truman won Illinois' 28 electoral votes by a margin of 33,612 out of more than 3.9 million popular votes.

But times and voting patterns have changed in Illinois and, perhaps even more importantly, elsewhere.

The eight states Truman carried in the South 20 years ago gave him 99 electoral votes, providing the margin of his 303-189 win over Dewey. The then Democratic Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina collected 39 as a Dixiecrat candidate.

Thurmond, now a Republican senator, is leading the Nixon forces in the politically splintered area that once was the solid Democratic South.

There are clear signs that third-party candidate George C. Wallace won't stop where Thurmond did 20 years ago. Thurmond won only Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

Wallace is strongly in the running with Nixon for the Southern states that Truman carried, including Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

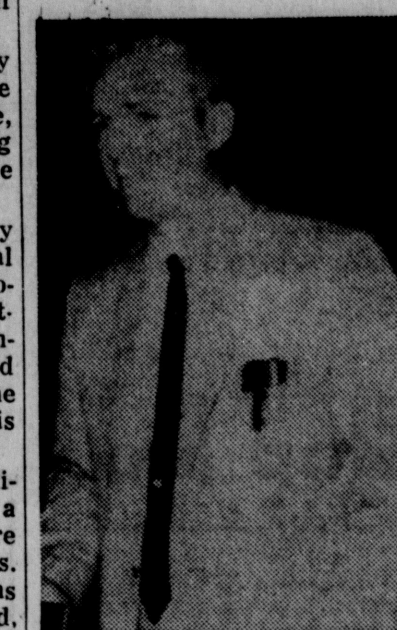

Outside the South, Wallace's vote could cut into Humphrey's strength, as Thurmond's support did not do in Truman's case.

However, Henry A. Wallace, running on the Progressive ticket, cost Truman New York's 47 electoral votes 20 years ago. Dewey topped Truman by only about 61,000 in the popular count while Wallace was polling 509,000, of which a substantial number probably should have gone to the Democratic nominee.

The major parties discount George Wallace's appeal in New York state.

The Wallace vote could also make the difference in other key states. The Republican assumption is that he will take blue-collar votes that otherwise

Public Vigils Set For Biafra Children

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Public vigils were planned today and Saturday at the Statehouse by a number of Columbus residents and Ohio State University students who want to call attention to the plight of thousands of Biafran children who are starving to death.

The Biafrans are dying daily of malnutrition as they are almost cut off from food supplies by the Nigerian civil war. The vigil is sponsored by the Friends of Biafra Association.

might have gone to Humphrey. The Democratic contention is that he will take away some of the anti-administration protest vote from Nixon.

Because he had a relatively strong Southern base, Truman won in 1948 by carrying only five of the nine largest industrial states—California, Illinois, Ohio, Texas and Massachusetts.

Without a secure Dixie base, with little hope for Illinois where Nixon counts himself strongest, and facing a stiff challenge in Texas, Humphrey can hardly afford to duplicate Truman's losses in New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and New Jersey.

With Dewey's experience in mind, however, Republican strategists have been concerned recently with reports that Democrats are likely to be let in sufficient numbers to retain control of the House and Senate.

Twenty years ago the Democrats took nine Senate seats away from the Republicans without losing any of their own, gaining operating control of that body. They took over the House with a startling gain of 74 seats, giving them 263 at the start of the 81st Congress.

Truman carried eight of the nine states where a Democrat replaced a GOP senator, Delaware being the only exception.

This was the year when Humphrey helped Truman carry Minnesota. It also was the year of the first Senate election of Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Eastes Kefauver of Tennessee, Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma and Douglas of Illinois.

If the Democratic candidates of 20 years ago were not all happy about being on the ticket with Truman, there was not such a broad and deep-seated party division over major policies as now plagues Humphrey.

If the vice presidential catches any senatorial coattails, he will have to depend in many instances on candidates who disagree with him on the Vietnam war and other Johnson administration policies and actions.

These include Sen. Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, former Rep. John J. Gilligan of Ohio, Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana, Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas and Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon.

In contrast to Truman's day, California has a divided and disorganized Democratic party which Humphrey is trying desperately to patch together. The vice president's strategists hope that Alan Cranston, the Democratic senatorial nominee, will help pull some votes Humphrey's way. Cranston is leading by a wide margin in most polls, but Humphrey is trailing Nixon.

Truman carried California, with its 40 electoral votes, without any local candidate help.

The 1948 nominee had no difficulty in carrying Texas and its 23 electoral votes against Dewey and Thurmond. Humphrey remains in deep trouble with Nixon and Wallace running strongly in that state.

Missouri was Truman's home state and he captured its 15 votes going away. But Wallace and Nixon have complicated matters there for Humphrey.

With Humphrey winning a senate seat in Minnesota, Truman easily walked off with its 11 electoral votes 20 years ago. Now the polls indicate a toss-up in Humphrey's home state.

Humphrey's task is further complicated by the absence of some built-in Truman assets. Truman had been president nearly four years and the country knew a great deal about him.

Humphrey has been out of the main political spotlight for four years. He must generally defend the record of another man, without having had much influence on how that record was made.

Unlike Truman's time, there is no Republican Congress to whipsaw. Unlike the 1948 president he has no personal control from the White House of government machinery and no personally dominated party organization built up over four years.

Truman had his domestic troubles, but they do not compare with the present dissension over the Vietnam war and violence in the streets.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

More Reading, Less Kissing

DEAR ABBY: I am worried. I read somewhere that a girl can get cancer from kissing a boy who smokes a lot if the boy happens to have an open cut on his tongue or lip. Is this true?

THIRTEEN AND WORRIED
DEAR THIRTEEN: No, it's not true, although there are other diseases which are transmitted in this manner. Obviously you're old enough to read, but you're hardly old enough to go in for the kind of kissing you describe, so the word from here is to read more and kiss less, and you won't have to worry.

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a married man. I know this sounds corny, but his wife doesn't understand him. (I do.) He spends half his time with me, and other half at home because he has children. He tells me he hasn't loved his wife for a long time and that he has absolutely nothing whatsoever to do with her, but last night in his sleep he called me by her name. What do you think?

THE GIRL FRIEND
DEAR GIRL FRIEND: I think you ought to pray that this never happens in reverse.

DEAR ABBY: I am a normal, red-blooded, 29-year-old man who would like to get married. I am not looking for a rich girl, or a beauty either, as I am nothing out of the ordinary. But I do want a woman no man has ever had before.

I was on the brink of marriage twice in my life. One was a divorcee and the other a widow. I simply could not bring myself to marry either one of them knowing they had been in the arms of another man. I fully realize it was not the widow's fault that her husband died, and the divorcee was also blameless because her husband ran off and left her. All the same, I want a woman who has never been with a man—if you know what I mean. Am I asking too much? Sign me—

"LOUIS THE FIRST"
DEAR LOUIS: No, but your kind usually winds up "LOUIS XVI!" And now may I ask you a question? Have you ever been with a woman—if you know what I mean?

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing in reference to "WORRIED," who stated her dilemma about whether to tell her neighbor with a 4-year-old boy about the teen-ager on their street who has molested children. You said, YES, by all means tell her.

I say, YES, YES, YES, tell her immediately! We lived on our street for 2 years with our two beautiful pre-school-age daughters when we learned that a neighbor had a history of child molesting. When I mentioned this to several neighbors to warn them to watch their children closely, they said they already knew about it, but no one wanted to tell US for fear of "upsetting" us.

To keep silent when one knows of an evil is to condone it. If one of my daughters had been molested, those silent neighbors would have been morally guilty.

Cuyahoga County Elections Board Reported Broke

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Joseph A. Cipollone, director of the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections, said Thursday the board is $640,000 short of operating funds for the rest of the year—including the Nov. 5 general election.

"I can't meet the next payroll," Cipollone said.

Election officials said the shortage is the result of a variety of unforeseen expenses which cropped up after the county commissioners approved an election board budget of $2,760,786.

Robert E. Hughes, an election board member and co-chairman of the county Republican party, said the commissioners "will have to come up with the money. The election goes forward."

The Mayor's Report

To Be Or Not To Be

By MAYOR RICHARD L. GERHARDT

Once every year, all attention is thrown onto our downtown area. There are thousands of people walking the streets and enjoying themselves. As quickly as it is begun, however, the Pumpkin Show ends and the downtown returns to normal.

It is this "normal" that I would like to discuss with you, and to discuss more specifically with those who wish to see the downtown area survive. I use the word survive, because it is appropriate and suitable. The time to act is now. The time to move forward is now. The time to do something to save the downtown is now. Tomorrow may be too late.

Each year we see more empty stores in the downtown area. Each year we see new additions at our neighborhood shopping areas.

Each year we see more people trying to find places to park. Each year we see more people driving 20 miles or more to do their shopping.

Each year we see more people wanting a larger selection and variety than is available locally.

We can do something to stop these problems, but we must act together and promptly.

Neighborhood shopping areas are not the cause of this problem. They were as sure to come into existence as was the supermarket which displaced the corner grocery store, vegetable stand, and butcher's meat store. Convenience is progress and it will not stand still. The shopping areas have advantages, but so does our downtown area if we only utilize the advantages that exist.

No shopping area can boast the number of shops and stores as is in the downtown area. None can boast as central a location to the entire city as can the downtown area.

This leads us to the central theme of this week's report — "The Downtown-To Be or Not To Be." "Not to be" is to do nothing, to say we've got along okay in the past and to return each year to "normal."

"To Be" is to realize first, that something is wrong, and secondly, to do something about it now before it is too late. Certainly the private parking lots are a step toward this goal. But much more must be done.

The local merchants must re-appraise their market position and begin now to cooperate and work together with the city and each other to improve our downtown area. Plans are underway for a study to be made of the downtown area as part of the overall Master Plan for Circleville. This will give help and guidance, but it will not provide the final result. For that final result each person interested in the downtown area must look to his own heart and pocketbook if it is ever to be accomplished.

People shop where they find it most convenient, pleasing and inexpensive. A shopper does not owe any downtown, shopping area, or merchant an obligation to shop in his store. And there lies the challenge, to make all shoppers want to come to our downtown, our shopping areas and our merchants.

Hold Up Phone

Worker, Escape

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland police are searching for two men who robbed an Ohio Bell Telephone Co. truck driver Thursday of between $15,000 and $20,000 in pay phone coins, then fled in the truck.

The truck driver, Gregg Schalm, 20, of Lakewood, said the two robbers pulled alongside his truck and waved him to the side of the road in the Akron suburb of Fairlawn.

Schalm said a man with a pistol then left the car and got into the truck, ordering him to drive to Cleveland. The car followed.

In Cleveland, Schalm said he was ordered out of the truck and handed a $5 bill by one of the robbers who told him:

"You're one of the nicest guys we've held up in nine years."

Retired Marine Commander Disputes RFK Crisis Story

By FRED HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Marine Gen. David M. Shoup says the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy unfairly depicted the role played by the Joint Chiefs of Staff during the 1962 Cuba missile crisis.

In a magazine article published last week, the late senator wrote that his brother, President John F. Kennedy, was distressed because most of his military advisors "seemed to give so little consideration to the implications of the steps they suggested."

Kennedy wrote that some of the ideas put forth by the joint chiefs included an air strike and an invasion of Cuba and even an attack directly on the Soviet Union.

Shoup, Marine commandant and a member of the joint chiefs in 1962, said in an interview:

"It is not fair to say that the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommended, to the exclusion of any other course, that we go right in and blast the missile sites off the face of the earth," Shoup said.

"I'm pretty sure nobody recommended in my presence unequivocally that we immediately try to wipe out the missile sites with bombs without any other consideration of the implications."

The former Marine leader said that "I spent many, many hours in the tank at that time and I don't remember anyone who had a flippant attitude about flipping nuclear weapons."

The "tank" is the slang name for the Pentagon room where the military chiefs deliberate. "Robert Kennedy did not sit in the tank. He had to draw that conclusion by looking at the face of a man who was under stress for days," Shoup said, adding that he doubted Kennedy knew the real inner thoughts of the chiefs "except as he guessed them."

Restaurant In Moscow Tautly Run

MOSCOW (AP)—A new high-rise, rotating restaurant features foreign whiskies, foreign music and something unusual in Moscow—speedy service.

Seventh Heaven, as the place is called, is one of the world's highest restaurants and it has prices to match.

For a minimum of 8 rubles or $8.88 per person, the management serves a fixed menu, with no substitutions allowed. Drinks are extra.

"The only thing I didn't like about it was the price," said one Russian as he left.

Seventh Heaven is in Moscow's new 1,722-foot central television tower, which the Soviets call the world's tallest free-standing structure. The restaurant is 1,100 feet up.

Opening night was much publicized, with radio and television stations advertising the new restaurant.

Rotating restaurants are something new to Moscow.

This one makes a rather jerky orbit every 25 minutes, offering a panoramic view of the city.

Under house rules, each person must finish his eating and drinking within two hours to make room for new customers. This will prove difficult for most Moscovites, accustomed to eating out only when they can make an evening of it.

'Truth Squad' Just Too Slow

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rep. Barber Conable of New York says he and fellow Republican "truth squad" members have a problem in logistics: Their plane travels 250 miles an hour while Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee for president, cruises in a jet twice that fast.

On Thursday, Conable reported, the squad had to rely on newspaper accounts—rather than firsthand observations—to obtain material for rebuttal to some Humphrey speeches and statements. This was the 59th stop of the year for the squad, which has a rotating membership of congressmen and governors.

Private Hospital To Close Doors

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Trustees of the strikebound Ingleside Hospital decided Thursday to close the Cleveland psychiatric institution and put it up for sale.

Hospital administrator George Holmes said the decision stemmed from a strike of some 60 nonprofessional employees which had resulted in the hospital receiving bombing and arson threats.

Orangutan Picks Lock On Building

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Fu Manchu, a gentle, sweet-tempered orangutan, has mastered the art of picking locks.

Seek To Protect
Cleveland Polls

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cuyahoga County Board of Elections, worried about possible demonstrations at polling places Nov. 5 met Thursday with Cleveland police to plan extra security.

Board member Saul G. Stillman said direct telephone lines should be installed at polling places where presiding judges do not have ready access to telephones.

"A few weeks ago we found all four of our orangutans out of their building. A few days later it happened again," the zoo director, Dr. Warren Thomas, said.

Vigilance foiled the next escape. As keepers watched, Fu climbed to the bottom of the moat surrounding his outdoor play area, took a piece of wire and tripped the spring loaded lock on a service door.

It was the seventh time Fu had managed the getaway.

"We have cleaned and cleaned that outside area and the moat. We are not certain where Fu gets the wire, but we do know it's sometimes hidden in Fu's mouth," Thomas said.

A new bolt has foiled Fu for the moment but Thomas says, "I don't know that the orangutan building can ever be Fu-proof."

Jackie's Marriage Puts Church In Tizzy

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Human events sometimes jolt the ordinary operating patterns of the churches, and show up the tangled ambiguities among them.

That seems to have happened to some extent in the marriage of Roman Catholic Jacqueline Kennedy and Greek Orthodox multimillionaire Aristotle Onassis.

"These things sometimes point up the anomalies and shake out some of the cobwebs," observed the Rev. George Bacopoulos, chancellor of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of North and South America.

The disconcerting impact of the Kennedy-Onassis marriage was indicated in the hesitancy of Catholic authorities to make any flat declaration about its effect on Mrs. Onassis' church status.

It puts her in an "irregular situation," a Vatican official said, toning down the past standard ruling of automatic excommunication in such cases.

Boston's Richard Cardinal Cushing, who had been consulted in advance about the marriage, said the idea of excommunication was "a lot of nonsense" and only God can know the right or wrong of her decision.

The complications, pending some further steps to clear them up, created highly incongruous circumstances in regard to the couple's partaking of Communion.

Mrs. Onassis was described as barred from Communion in her Church under Catholic rules forbidding marriage to a divorced person.

Neither can she take Orthodox Communion under its rules, since she is not an Orthodox member.

Curiously, however, Onassis himself apparently would be eligible to take Communion in either church under a recent Catholic policy allowing Orthodox communicants to share the Catholic rite, even though his Catholic wife would be excluded because of marriage to him.

"This would seem to be so, since he is in good standing in his Church, and it has confirmed the dissolution of his prior marriage and validity of his present marriage," said the Rev. John Hotchkiss, of Washington, D.C., a Catholic ecumenical officer.

However, he said he would not attempt any definite assessment of the specific case, considering the changing state of Church regulations and interchurch relationships.

He noted that admission of

Orthodox Christians to Catholic Communion was authorized in the Second Vatican Council's Decree on Ecumenism. However, Orthodoxy has not yet reciprocated, and so its Communion is not open to Mrs. Onassis, as a Roman Catholic.

Nor does Orthodoxy authorize its members, including Onassis, to take Catholic Communion, even though Catholicism would permit it.

However, Orthodoxy is expected to consider the matter of sharing Communion with Roman Catholics at a planned Pan-Orthodox Council, to be held possibly in 1969 or 1970.

Adding to the momentary mix-up, however, is the fact that each church recognizes the validity of marriages, even of its own members, in the other church, but the two churches have differing rules on eligibility to marry.

Orthodoxy permits divorce, as it did in the case of Onassis. But Roman Catholicism does not, although it sometimes grants annulments, but only for tightly limited reasons, and some Catholic scholars have urged more latitude in the matter.

But in its present position, Catholicism, while allowing its bishops to permit Catholics to marry in Orthodox services, does not use the same criteria as Orthodoxy in determining the right of the partners to marry. That, basically, was the problem in the Onassis marriage.

Ohio Leatherneck Dies In Crash

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP) —The pilot of a Marine helicopter that crashed in a Jacksonville shopping center Wednesday has been identified as Maj. John B. Tizio, 35, of Canton, Ohio.

Tizio and his crew chief, Prf. Robert E. Pryor, 22, Dallas, Tex., were killed when the helicopter, on a training mission from the New River Marine Air Station, crashed and set fire to a supermarket.

The male cricket chirps by rubbing its wings together. The warmer the temperature is, the faster the cricket chirps. To calculate the temperature, count the number of chirps in 15 seconds and add 40.

Jackie's Marriage Puts Church In Tizzy

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Human events sometimes jolt the ordinary operating patterns of the churches, and show up the tangled ambiguities among them.

That seems to have happened to some extent in the marriage of Roman Catholic Jacqueline Kennedy and Greek Orthodox multimillionaire Aristotle Onassis.

"These things sometimes point up the anomalies and shake out some of the cobwebs," observed the Rev. George Bacopoulos, chancellor of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of North and South America.

The disconcerting impact of the Kennedy-Onassis marriage was indicated in the hesitancy of Catholic authorities to make any flat declaration about its effect on Mrs. Onassis' church status.

It puts her in an "irregular situation," a Vatican official said, toning down the past standard ruling of automatic excommunication in such cases.

Boston's Richard Cardinal Cushing, who had been consulted in advance about the marriage, said the idea of excommunication was "a lot of nonsense" and only God can know the right or wrong of her decision.

The complications, pending some further steps to clear them up, created highly incongruous circumstances in regard to the couple's partaking of Communion.

Mrs. Onassis was described as barred from Communion in her Church under Catholic rules forbidding marriage to a divorced person.

Neither can she take Orthodox Communion under its rules, since she is not an Orthodox member.

Curiously, however, Onassis himself apparently would be eligible to take Communion in either church under a recent Catholic policy allowing Orthodox communicants to share the Catholic rite, even though his Catholic wife would be excluded because of marriage to him.

"This would seem to be so, since he is in good standing in his Church, and it has confirmed the dissolution of his prior marriage and validity of his present marriage," said the Rev. John Hotchkin, of Washington, D.C., a Catholic ecumenical officer.

However, he said he would not attempt any definite assessment of the specific case, considering the changing state of Church regulations and interchurch relationships.

He noted that admission of

Orthodox Christians to Catholic Communion was authorized in the Second Vatican Council's Decree on Ecumenism. However, Orthodoxy has not yet reciprocated, and so its Communion is not open to Mrs. Onassis, as a Roman Catholic.

Nor does Orthodoxy authorize its members, including Onassis, to take Catholic Communion, even though Catholicism would permit it.

However, Orthodoxy is expected to consider the matter of sharing Communion with Roman Catholics at a planned Pan-Orthodox Council, to be held possibly in 1969 or 1970.

Adding to the momentary mix-up, however, is the fact that each church recognizes the validity of marriages, even of its own members, in the other church, but the two churches have differing rules on eligibility to marry.

Orthodoxy permits divorce, as it did in the case of Onassis. But Roman Catholicism does not, although it sometimes grants annulments, but only for tightly limited reasons, and some Catholic scholars have urged more latitude in the matter.

But in its present position, Catholicism, while allowing its bishops to permit Catholics to marry in Orthodox services, does not use the same criteria as Orthodoxy in determining the right of the partners to marry.

That, basically, was the problem in the Onassis marriage.

'Maggie Flynn' Badly Needs To Be Started From Scratch

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Critic

NEW YORK (AP) — Five authors get program credit for creation of the musical "Maggie Flynn" which opened Wednesday night at Broadway's ANTA Theater, and it is regrettable that somewhere along the creative way they couldn't have decided what they were doing.

The classy husband-wife team of Jack Cassidy and Shirley Jones, dimpled charmers both, spin through the disheveled fable with stellar zing, and there are moments when the production promises to become something special. Just moments.

The basic idea, provided by John Flaxman, concerns a grass widow, Irish to be sure, who runs an orphanage for Negro children during New York's violent antiraid riots of Civil War 1863.

The other collaborators on the book include director Morton Da Costa, and a music-lyrics trio of Hugh Peretti, Luigi Creatore and George David Weiss.

What sprawls onto the stage is a combination of "Rebecca" of Sunnybrook Farm, "Finian's Rainbow," "Orphans of the Storm" and "Uncle Toms Cabin." Attempts at humor are ignoble.

The score, set chiefly to a relentless march tempo, is of the type termed serviceable. "Never Gonna Make Me Fight," "Look Around Your Little World" and the title number are the stuff of advertizing jingles.

Brian MacDonald's choreography is mostly prance, with his main exhibit, the night of bloody riot, only partly effective. William and Jean Eckart keep a lot of assorted scenic effects shunting in and out to excessive degree.

But then, that's the trouble with "Maggie Flynn." Too much, too often, until all the effort shows.

OHIO CASH GRAIN

Close-up of a nerve?

No. It's just a rope . . . at the breaking point. But, frankly, it's a good illustration of how a man feels when his nerves are "worn to a frazzle."

The Church has never claimed that religion is a cure for frazzled nerves. But a man's Christian faith does this for him:

It shows him a Purpose in life more important than mere existence. It shows him a Power more effective than his own strength. It shows him a Future more rewarding than selfish gain. And it gives him courage more lasting than the sheer force of his human will.

With these spiritual resources, founded in the certainty that God understands and helps, a man never reaches "the breaking point." For when his human reserve is exhausted . . . he has only begun to tap the vast reservoir of Divine Strength.

THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE CAN SHOW YOU THE WAY!

Student Of the Week

DENISE DOWNING

By DAVE SADLER
"Good things come in small packages." This familiar cliché can be used for Denise Downing, CHS's new student of the week.

Denise resides at the Garden City, Plaza Apartments with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Downing, two sisters and a brother.

Seventeen-year old Denise came from Wilmington, Del. where she attended Brandywine High School. After graduation she plans to return and further her studies at the University of Delaware.

While at Brandywine, she participated in the Latin Club, French Club, Pep Club and Ski Club. She is planning to join the newly formed pep section at CHS.

Denise likes CHS because of its small and friendly atmosphere. She also finds a place here for her hobbies of reading and water-skiing.

Denise's outlook on life is "A person should live life as he wants and not be subjected to all types of criticism."

Grid Scores Are Predicted

By DAVE SADLER and MEL SMITH

"Washington C. H., Miami Trace and Wilmington will mark another notch in the victory belts," states the CHS fearless forecasters. With one possible, the forecasters will have a perfect score on this first try.

Washington C. H. 42 v. Hillsboro 6. It could be close if Washington cannot hold Jack Monts de Oca. Coming off a win over Circleville, Court House expects to wrap up the league title. With Aleshire's passing and Lowell Harper's running, they are a solid favorite to walk away with all honors.

Miami Trace 28 v. Greenfield McClain 14. Coming off a tough loss, Greenfield will fight with everything they have. The Coleman to Kellis aerial show could be devastating but will not be expected to overcome Trace's fine defense. Although both clubs are explosive, the third place Panthers have too much for the cellar-dwelling Tigers.

Wilmington 24 v. Circleville 20. Sorry, boys! The upset-minded Tigers are looking for revenge. The Hurricanes come off a tough game and might be a little weary. With a solid defense and a high geared offense, the Hurricanes are expected to nail down the runner-up spot in the SCOL. If Circleville can stop the big plays and stay away from costly mental errors, an upset could definitely be in the making.

Homecoming Game is tonight. Go, Tigers! Let's have a victory!

Letters To Red And Black

DEAR EDITOR:

Way back last year when I was a senior at CHS, I knew as much about college life as most of you do now: not a whole lot. I listened to all the lectures of the experienced, but they didn't impress me because college still seemed a long way off. But now, after the first week of classes, I have a little knowledge about how to prepare for the survival.

High school is great: a minimum of studying, close associations, a real shelter house. The teachers make assignments, you do them, or more often than not, fake them and you get by. It is more like a social club with books thrown in so it can be called school.

Here with 250 kids in one class, you either study or flunk. Most professors give a mid term exam and final, and that is your grade. That makes it awful hard to just get by. I don't mean to scare off prospective collegians, but college is a place to learn, not a place to go to get away from home.

Some seniors picture college as a place where they will be gobbled up into obscurity by the masses. With 20,000 kids running around, few cliques develop such as in high school. Identity is the key. One of my profs said, "you are here in college not just to learn about the world, but to learn about yourself." And with complete independence, you learn awfully quick the stuff you are made of.

When I was in high school facing college, I wanted to know the concrete facts about what goes on, which no one seemed to offer. I wanted to know how much time I would do after a day's classes were over and what an actual classroom session was like.

The first few days here were spent in getting situated. I met my roommates and we proceeded to settle down. There were meetings to attend all the time and spare hours were spent in exploring the campus.

I learned right away that upperclassmen are the greatest source of information on practically all subjects. They know all the tabs and are surprisingly free to spell out the rules. No one wears a tag that says "I am a freshman" because everyone is new to others. You are accepted for what you are, a human being with problems the same as anyone else. Friendships between strangers, unlike in high school, can develop without restrictions.

My first class contained 22 students. I knew no one in the room. The prof told us a little about the course and what was expected from us and assigned 30 pages to be read by the next day. My second and third classes, both lectures, had 250 students in each. Both lecture classes meet three days a week. A smaller class of 20 meets once a week with a graduate student to discuss and clarify the lectures. I picked up another 30 pages of reading.

In one class the prof. passed out our assignments for the whole term. In another class we were told to read a little of the textbook. That night I finished my assignment in about three hours, first reading the text and then going back to take notes.

The next day the prof. reviewed the assignment and I took a total of three pages of notes. There is no night-before cramming for exams. The reviewing comes each day.

Something that must be realized is that not all colleges are alike in policies pertaining to grades or assignments. Student activities also differ at different institutions. But they all have one goal in mind: the training of serious-minded students who want an education.

If you don't sincerely want to go to college, I would say don't because it would be a disappointment. If you want to further your education but haven't chosen your institution, do it now as most colleges have application deadlines. Chose your school carefully because it will be your home for four or five years. Don't let up in the home stretch, your senior year. If you haven't been applying yourself, start now. The road to a satisfying college career and life is open to anyone with a sincere desire to travel it.

Appearances Are Deceiving

By MICHELE HULSE

Things just aren't what they appear to be.

I purchased a book that had an interesting title and an enthusiastic review. It was the dullest thing I have ever read. I saw a little puppy wagging his tail, begging me to pet him. As I reached down, he growled and snapped at me.

I bit into a plump red apple that should have been firm, sweet, and juicy by all appearances. I found it to be soft and dry.

I had always thought CHS students were ready to support their school. I expected them to be interested in going to the Homecoming Dance, but it seems now that I am again wrong. Yet it has been demonstrated to me many times that appearances are deceiving.

The Red and Black

New Editors Picked For School Page

By RUTH ANN RIHL, MEL SMITH, and JACKIE ULLMAN

The CHS journalism class has chosen five students to make up the editorial staff for the Oct. 25, through Nov. 22, issues of the Red and Black.

Michele Hulse is in charge of the Oct. 25, issue. She resides at 119 W. Ohio St. with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hulse Jr. and three brothers, Mike, Bill and Brian.

Michele is a member of GAA, Student Council, chairman of EMS, and vice president of the Science Club. She likes people, talking and "doodling." After graduation she plans to work a while then attend college.

When asked what she thought about journalism, she replied, "It is a demanding duty, but a lot of fun. It gives you the opportunity to understand people better."

Editor for the November 1st, issue is Beverly Thompson. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson who reside at 551 E. Mound St.

Bev's likes are London, Ohio; her cat, Sam; twirling her baton; riding the band bus; weekends and black cougars. She dislikes tests on Monday.

Her activities include SOS, of which she is recording secretary. GAA, intramurals and band, of which she is secretary and head majorette. After high school she plans to attend Ohio State University. She wants to teach either physical education or English.

Concerning her job as editor, Bev commented that she must make sure that the work is done on time and proof read the articles. When asked what she thought about journalism, she replied, "If you enjoy writing, it's a good way to express yourself."

Debbie Heiskell, who is in charge of the Nov. 8, issue, lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Heiskell Jr. at 912 Circle Drive.

Her likes are Steve, weekends and people who have a sense of humor. She is quite active in Curtain Callers and is co-chairman of set and props for the junior class play.

When asked her opinion of being elected, Debbie answered, "I was very happy to be chosen because I feel that bring on the editorial committee will be fun and rewarding."

Rick Sims, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Sims Jr., resides at 120 W. High St. He is in charge of the Nov. 15, issue.

Rick is enrolled in the general course of study. In his free time he enjoys hunting and fishing. After graduation Rick plans to go to an out of state college.

When asked his reaction to being chosen editor, Rick said, "I was honored and will do my best."

Jan Clifton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clifton of 905 Circle Drive, is in charge of the Nov. 22, issue.

Water skiing, swimming and shake 'n bake parties are her idea of fun. People who are inconsistent are one of her major dislikes. She is active in band and Volunteers.

Her feelings about being chosen for the staff were enthusiastic. "I was pretty surprised and really happy. I like this class a lot and I'm looking forward to the responsibility," she said.

Witchcraft Is Practiced In Modern Day As Religion

By MICHELE HULSE

Until a few years ago, witches were a seasonal topic discussed mainly around Halloween, but things have changed. The rising trend in the practice of witchcraft all over the world has brought this change about.

This is not a new fad that has just "made the scene" for a while and that will eventually fade again but is a fully developed, carefully planned religion. These people have their days of worship, the special rites, officials and study program just as any other religion.

Witchcraft has survived many centuries, through good times and bad.

Great Britain has sheltered many followers of this cult. Mysterious deaths or disappearances are occasionally suggested to be a product of witchcraft, because they occur on some of the witches' sabbots or holidays. There are records of certain rites performed on these days in which human sacrifices, especially of little children are used.

A large number of African and South American politicians practice the art to counteract the curses and spells used by their opponents and enemies. Sudden unexplainable deaths or illnesses of prominent men in these nations are almost always considered the result of black magic.

Deep in the jungles, the natives use their voodoo as a means of destroying those things which they do not understand. Seldom do their incantations and rites produce the desired results but their few "successes" keep them believing in their powers.

So in the United States we also have witches and warlocks. To the casual observer they may appear to be average people leading normal lives. This is not unreasonable. They

Journalists Visit WCH

By PATTY GLITT

Hammers pounding, saws buzzing, boards falling and the aroma of a new, but unfinished school surrounded Debbie Heiskell, Patty Glitt, and Joe Tomlinson when they visited Washington Court House on Friday, October 18.

"We wanted to observe their journalism class to see how they compiled their news and to see how we could improve our paper," commented Patty on the purpose of the trip.

Each day a student writes a news story and Lowell Harper, Blue Lines editor, chooses the best one. Debbie stated, "I prefer our classroom procedures over theirs due to the responsibility we have. The editorial committee is in charge of the material and if something goes wrong, it is our fault."

As a result of journeying to WCH, Joe reported that, "We hope to promote better school relationships not only with WCH but also with other surrounding schools. Our journalism class needs improvement and we hope to exchange ideas with these schools, to help them and us."

Congratulations to Peggy Mayo and Krista Clifton on representing CHS so well in the Pumpkin Show.

Special mention should be made of CHS teacher Mr. Don Poling's little daughter, Mindy, for her victory over the little misses.

My first class contained 22 students. I knew no one in the room. The prof told us a little about the course and what was expected from us and assigned 30 pages to be read by the next day. My second and third classes, both lectures, had 250 students in each. Both lecture classes meet three days a week. A smaller class of 20 meets once a week with a graduate student to discuss and clarify the lectures. I picked up another 30 pages of reading.

In one class the prof. passed out our assignments for the whole term. In another class we were told to read a little of the textbook. That night I finished my assignment in about three hours, first reading the text and then going back to take notes.

The next day the prof. reviewed the assignment and I took a total of three pages of notes. There is no night-before cramming for exams. The reviewing comes each day.

Something that must be realized is that not all colleges are alike in policies pertaining to grades or assignments. Student activities also differ at different institutions. But they all have one goal in mind: the training of serious-minded students who want an education.

If you don't sincerely want to go to college, I would say not because it would be a disappointment. If you want to further your education but haven't chosen your institution, do it now as most colleges have application deadlines. Chose your school carefully because it will be your home for four or five years. Don't let up in the home stretch, your senior year. If you haven't been applying yourself, start now. The road to a satisfying college career and life is open to anyone with a sincere desire to travel it.

Appearances Are Deceiving

By MICHELE HULSE
Things just aren't what they appear to be.

I purchased a book that had an interesting title and an enthusiastic review. It was the dullest thing I have ever read.

I saw a little puppy wagging his tail, begging me to pet him. As I reached down, he growled and snapped at me.

I bit into a plump red apple that should have been firm, sweet, and juicy by all appearances. I found it to be soft and dry.

I had always thought CHS students were ready to support their school. I expected them to be interested in going to the Homecoming Dance, but it seems now that I am again wrong. Yet it has been demonstrated to me many times that appearances are deceiving.

Witchcraft Is Practiced In Modern Day As Religion

By MICHELE HULSE

Until a few years ago, witches were a seasonal topic discussed mainly around Halloween, but things have changed. The rising trend in the practice of witchcraft all over the world has brought this change about.

This is not a new fad that has just "made the scene" for a while and that will eventually fade again but is a fully developed, carefully planned religion. These people have their days of worship, the special rites, officials and study program just as any other religion.

Witchcraft has survived many centuries, through good times and bad.

Great Britain has sheltered many followers of this cult. Mysterious deaths or disappearances are occasionally suggested to be a product of witchcraft, because they occur on some of the witches' sabbats or holidays. There are records of certain rites performed on these days in which human sacrifices, especially of little children are used.

A large number of African and South American politicians practice the art to counteract the curses and spells used by their opponents and enemies. Sudden unexplainable deaths or illnesses of prominent men in these nations are almost always considered the result of black magic.

Deep in the jungles, the natives use their voodoo as a means of destroying those things which they do not understand. Seldom do their incantations and rites produce the desired results but their few "successes" keep them believing in their powers.

So in the United States we also have witches and warlocks. To the casual observer they may appear to be average people leading normal lives. This is not unreasonable. They are people with different beliefs and such people comprise the total population of our nation.

There is a reason for the rise of any group or organization. Perhaps it is the growing dissatisfaction and unrest with world affairs that has brought about the increased interest in the black arts. People are continually searching for an answer to their problems. When they cannot find it in the established methods they search for a new way. To some people witchcraft appears to be the answer.

Journalists Visit WCH

By PATTY GLITT

Hammers pounding, saws buzzing, boards falling and the aroma of a new, but unfinished school surrounded Debbie Heiskell, Patty Glitt, and Joe Tomlinson when they visited Washington Court House on Friday, October 18.

"We wanted to observe their journalism class to see how they compiled their news and to see how we could improve our paper," commented Patty on the purpose of the trip.

Each day a student writes a news story and Lowell Harper, Blue Lines editor, chooses the best one. Debbie stated, "I prefer our classroom procedures over theirs due to the responsibility we have. The editorial committee is in charge of the material and if something goes wrong, it is our fault."

As a result of journeying to WCH, Joe reported that, "We hope to promote better school relationships not only with WCH but also with other surrounding schools. Our journalism class needs improvement and we hope to exchange ideas with these schools, to help them and us."

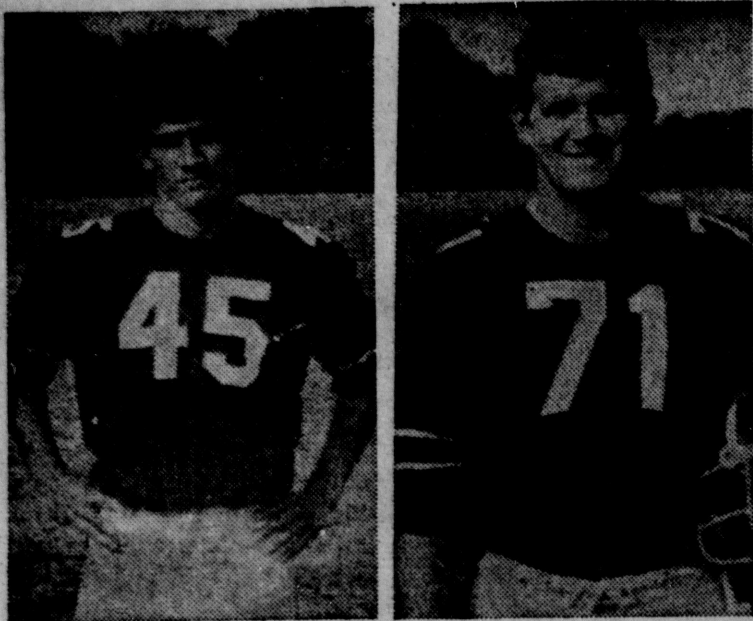

Congratulations to Peggy Mayo and Krista Clifton on representing CHS so well in the Pumpkin Show.

Illini Unlikely To Stop OSU

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

First it was Purdue. Now it's Illinois' turn to tackle Woody Hayes in the college Football Memory Game. And Illinois is expected to miss, just as Purdue did, when the winless Illini face second-ranked Ohio State Saturday.

A 17-13 Illinois victory knocked Ohio State out of a share of the Big Ten title last year and a possible trip to the Rose Bowl. Purdue also dented the Buckeyes to provide State's only other 1967 Big Ten loss, a 41-6 thrashing.

The Buckeyes, reminded by Coach Hayes of last year's debacle, beat then top-ranked Purdue 13-0 two weeks ago. All Illinois appears to have going in its favor to combat Hayes' memory is the fact it will be playing before a homecoming crowd.

If State's speed, strength, sturdy defense—and Hayes' memory—prevail, the Buckeyes could move into first place in The Associated Press Poll. No. 1 Southern California is idle this weekend.

But State's snaring of the Big Ten title is another question, and it will be partially answered when 12th-ranked Michigan and Minnesota, the teams tied with State at 2-0 for the conference crown, meet for the Little Brown Jug.

In other Top Ten action, Michigan State faces fifth-ranked Notre Dame; third-ranked Kansas tangles with Iowa State; fourth-ranked Penn State meets Boston College; seventh-ranked Purdue tackles Iowa; eighth-ranked Georgia clashes with Kentucky; ninth-ranked Miami of Florida plays Auburn and 10th-ranked Syracuse takes on 11th-ranked California.

Notre Dame, 4-1, meets Michigan State, 3-2, in a nationally televised game at East Lansing.

In other Saturday games, 13th-ranked Texas, will be at Rice in a night game; 14th-ranked Missouri travels to Kansas State; 15th-ranked Florida, will be at Vanderbilt; 16th-ranked North Texas State in a night game in Little Rock; 17th-ranked Mississippi will play host to Houston in Jackson; 18th-ranked Louisiana State plays at home against Texas Christian at night; 19th-ranked Texas Tech tackles Southern Methodist and 20th-ranked Florida State tangles with South Carolina at night.

Rawlins Ready For Marietta

Rich Rawlins, two-way tackle for the Otterbein College football team, missed last week's game with Baldwin Wallace, but is expected to be ready for Saturday's game at Marietta.

He sustained a pulled hip muscle and did not even dress for the BW game.

OSU Non-Academic Workers To Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A strike by more than 1,000 non-academic employees at Ohio State University appeared imminent today with union and university officials deadlocked over the issue of outside contracting.

Officials of Local 138, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees were to meet in executive session today before presenting their recommendations to a membership meeting tonight.

Bill Hobbs of the Texas Aggies intercepted seven passes last season and carried two of them across for touchdowns.

U.S. Widens Lead In Olympic Contest

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States' rag-tag basketball team goes for the gold tonight, while new controversies and charges of fixed wrestling matches arose in these troubled 19th Olympic Games.

The American gold medal production slowed considerably Thursday—two in swimming—but the margin over Russia increased.

Carl Robie, Drexel Hill, Pa., scored an upset victory in the men's 200-meter butterfly and Debbie Meyer, Sacramento, Calif., collected her third gold medal with an Olympic record 9:24.0 in the women's 800-meter freestyle.

Bucks Hope To Enhance Poll Position

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State seeks to enhance its national ranking Saturday when the Buckeyes tangle with lightly regarded Illinois in a Big Ten road skirmish.

The No. 2 ranked Buckeyes are three-touchdown favorites against their second straight winless foe. The Illini, 0-5, have little hope of snapping a Buckeye victory string that has reached eight over a two-year span.

The Bucks, 2-0 in the conference, will be out to break a three-way logjam for first place and to avenge two straight setbacks to the Illini. The other two clubs with 2-0 records, Minnesota and Michigan, meet at Ann Arbor.

Only linebacker Dirk Worden and halfback John Brockington are doubtful starters with all the other Bucks healthy.

There are other headlines on a 21-game Ohio collegiate program. By far the most crucial is Bowling Green's match with Miami at Oxford.

Bowling Green (2-0-1) must win to keep its hopes alive for a Mid-American Conference championship. Miami, in the same boat with a 3-1 conference log, hasn't whipped the Falcons at home since 1958.

In other top attractions, Toledo visits Kent State, Cincinnati entertains Tulsa, unbeaten Ohio University plays host to Dayton and Wittenberg invades Baldwin-Wallace for a key Ohio Conference contest.

Toledo (4-1-1) figures to have too much for Kent's disappointing Golden Flashes, still looking for that elusive first victory after six losses.

Cincinnati, bidding for its second Missouri Valley Conference triumph, banks on quarterback Greg Cook to get the job done against Tulsa.

Coach Bill Hess' Ohio U. Bobcats (5-0) face a formidable test in Dayton (3-2) since the Flyers have won three straight from the Cats.

Ohio, atop the MAC with a 4-0 mark, must contain Dayton's Bernie Kress, who has rushed for 446 yards and caught 13 passes for 206 more.

Baldwin-Wallace (2-0) battles Wittenberg (2-1) under the lights with the winner keeping pace in the OC with Ohio Wesleyan, 3-0, which is outside the conference against Wabash this week.

The others: Wooster at Kenyon; Oberlin at Denison; Muskingum at Capital; Otterbein at Marietta; Hiram at Mount Union (N); Defiance at Bluffton; Ashland at Heidelberg; Wilmington at Case; Ferris State at Findlay; West Virginia State at Central State; South Dakota State at Youngstown; Adelbert at John Carroll; Xavier at Villanova and Northwood Institute at Ohio Northern.

That pushed the U.S. collection of golds to 37 and a total of 88. Russia, meanwhile, managed only one gold, giving them 16 for the Games and a total of 53.

The United States will be favored in two of the three swimming finals tonight, but the attention will be riveted on the American basketball team's game with Yugoslavia for the Olympic title.

The game will be telecast live to the United States by ABC-TV. The team, shunned by such collegiate standouts as Lew Alcindor, Elvin Hayes and Don May, has been forged into a tightly knit precision crew by Coach Henry Iba.

The United States hasn't lost a game, much less the gold medal, since the sport was introduced into the Olympics in 1936, but Iba's team faces a major challenge in the Yugoslavs, who gained the finals by beating Russia.

Three new controversial issues broke Thursday.

Sweden was stripped of its bronze medal in modern pentathlon.

The Olympic Organizing Committee announced that only six representatives from each country will march in the closing ceremonies, a break in tradition.

In all recent Olympics, the entire contingents from all competing countries have marched in the colorful ceremony.

American freestyle wrestling Coach Tom Evans, leveled charges that some matches were thrown.

The U.S. Olympic Committee continues to investigate rumors of under the counter payoffs by manufacturers to athletes to use and display the manufacturers' products.

Sweden had to give up its bronze medal in modern pentathlon because one team member, Hans Gunnar Liljenvall, was found to have exceeded his alcohol intake before the shooting event. France was awarded the medal.

The Organizing Committee gave no reason for its action in curtailing the number of athletes.

Pesky Gets Job
BOSTON (AP)—Johnny Pesky, who resigned Wednesday as manager of the Columbus Jets in the International League, has been signed by station WHDH to help broadcast Boston Red Sox baseball games next season.

Deane Beman Leads Haig
COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP)—Former amateur champion Deane Beman, who gave up a lucrative insurance business to take a fling at professional golf, led the way into the second round today of the 110,000 Haig National Open Tournament with an initial flourish of 64—seven strokes under par and a putting mark of 19 which equaled the PGA record for 18 holes.

But Beman was only one from four strokes or less back were such threats as Billy Casper, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Al Gelberger, Bruce Crampton, Bob Rosburg and others.

Play is over the short 6,650-yard, par 36-35-71 Mesa Verde Country Club course, where Thursday 61 of the 150 players fractured par.

Beman's 19 putts tied a record shared by Rosburg, Bill Nary and Randy Glover.

Tied at 65 were Gelberger, Crampton, Dudley, Wyson and Dave Gumlia, while Rosburg was knotted at 66 with Ron Cer-

State record of never having lost an Olympic basketball game.

The Americans with a healthy Haywood are solid favorites. Without the flashy youngster the odds on the Yanks would drop sharply.

This game, scheduled for 11:30 p.m., EDT, is a rematch, the USA having drubbed Yugoslavia 73-58 in the first round. It will be televised live to the United States in color by ABC.

The Slavs upset mighty Russia in the semifinals and now here they are preparing to contest the USA as it goes after its 75th straight Olympic triumph without a single defeat.

Montezuma's Revenge Hurts U.S. Olympic Cage Chances

MEXICO CITY (AP) —The United States basketball team was more worried about Montezuma's Revenge today than it was about Yugoslavia, the Yanks' rival in the 1968 Olympic basketball showdown tonight.

Montezuma's Revenge is the nickname tagged by foreigners on diarrhea, and towering Spencer Haywood was hit by the ailment Thursday night.

"I think he'll play, but he's real sick," said Coach Hank Iba, whose attack hinges on the rebounding and shooting of the 6-foot-8 junior college star from Detroit.

"We hope he'll be all right by game time," added Iba, who is out to keep intact the United States record of never having lost an Olympic basketball game.

Card Shoot Slated At Fairgrounds

The Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen Assn. has scheduled a card shoot 1 p.m. Sunday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

The shoot will be held, rain or shine, at the shooting range located behind the harness track. The club has facilities to cover the shooting line in case of rain.

Jesse Owens, who won four gold medals in the 1936 Games and here as a special member of the U.S. Olympic Committee, was equally dismayed.

"I haven't heard the reasons they made this decision," Owens said, "but I'm sure they must be good ones. Yet, I can't help thinking something important is being lost."

"I've seen every Olympic Game since I participated and have always considered the closing ceremonies, from the human standpoint, the real highlight."

Curry Is Named Coach Of Barons

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) —Floyd Curry, who has been acting coach of the Cleveland Barons since the American Hockey League club started its training season, has been named head coach.

The 43-year-old Curry is a former assistant general manager of the Montreal Canadiens and former coach of the Quebec Aces.

Card Shoot Slated At Fairgrounds

The Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen Assn. has scheduled a card shoot 1 p.m. Sunday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

The shoot will be held, rain or shine, at the shooting range located behind the harness track. The club has facilities to cover the shooting line in case of rain.

Jesse Owens, who won four gold medals in the 1936 Games and here as a special member of the U.S. Olympic Committee, was equally dismayed.

"I haven't heard the reasons they made this decision," Owens said, "but I'm sure they must be good ones. Yet, I can't help thinking something important is being lost."

Illini Unlikely To Stop OSU

By SHEILA MORAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

First it was Purdue. Now it's Illinois' turn to tackle Woody Hayes in the college Football Memory Game. And Illinois is expected to miss just as Purdue did, when the winless Illini face second-ranked Ohio State Saturday.

A 17-13 Illinois victory knocked Ohio State out of a share of the Big Ten title last year and a possible trip to the Rose Bowl. Purdue also downed the Buckeyes to provide State's only other 1967 Big Ten loss, a 41-6 thrashing.

The Buckeyes, reminded by Coach Hayes of last year's debacle, beat then top-ranked Purdue 13-0 two weeks ago. All Illinois appears to have going in its favor to combat Hayes' memory is the fact it will be playing before a homecoming crowd.

If State's speed, strength, sturdy defense—and Hayes' memory—prevail, the Buckeyes could move into first place in The Associated Press Poll. No. 1 Southern California is idle this weekend.

But State's snaring of the Big Ten title is another question, and it will be partially answered when 12th-ranked Michigan and Minnesota, the teams tied with State at 2-0 for the conference crown, meet for the Little Brown Jug.

In other Top Ten action, Michigan State faces fifth-ranked Notre Dame; third-ranked Kansas tangles with Iowa State; fourth-ranked Penn State meets Boston College; seventh-ranked Purdue tackles Iowa; eighth-ranked Georgia clashes with Kentucky; ninth-ranked Miami of Florida plays Auburn and 10th-ranked

U.S. Widens Lead In Olympic Contest

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States' rag-tag basketball team goes for the gold tonight, while new controversies and charges of fixed wrestling matches arose in these trouble-ridden 19th Olympic Games.

The American gold medal production slowed considerably Thursday—two in swimming—but the margin over Russia increased.

Carl Robie, Drexel Hill, Pa., scored an upset victory in the men's 200-meter butterfly and Debbie Meyer, Sacramento, Calif., collected her third gold medal with an Olympic record 9:24.0 in the women's 800-meter freestyle.

Bucks Hope To Enhance Poll Position

By HAL PARIS

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State seeks to enhance its national ranking Saturday when the Buckeyes tangle with lightly regarded Illinois in a Big Ten road skirmish.

The No. 2 ranked Buckeyes are three-touchdown favorites against their second straight winless foe. The Illini, 0-5, have little hope of snapping a Buckeye victory string that has reached eight over a two-year span.

The Bucks, 2-0 in the conference, will be out to break a three-way logjam for first place and to average two straight set-backs to the Illini. The other two clubs with 2-0 records, Minnesota and Michigan, meet at Ann Arbor.

Only linebacker Dirk Worden and halfback John Brockington are doubtful starters with all the other Bucks healthy.

There are other headlines on a 21-game Ohio collegiate program. By far the most crucial is Bowling Green's match with Miami at Oxford.

Bowling Green (2-0-1) must win to keep its hopes alive for a Mid-American Conference championship. Miami, in the same boat with a 3-1 conference log, hasn't whipped the Falcons at home since 1958.

In other top attractions, Toledo visits Kent State, Cincinnati entertains Tulsa, unbeaten Ohio University plays host to Dayton and Wittenberg invades Baldwin-Wallace for a key Ohio Conference contest.

Toledo (4-1-1) figures to have too much for Kent's disappointing Golden Flashes, still looking for that elusive first victory after six losses.

Cincinnati, bidding for its second Missouri Valley Conference triumph, banks on quarterback Greg Cook to get the job done against Tulsa.

Coach Bill Hess' Ohio U. Bobcats (5-0) face a formidable test in Dayton (3-2) since the Flyers have won three straight from the Cats.

Ohio, atop the MAC with a 4-0 mark, must contain Dayton's Bernie Kress, who has rushed for 446 yards and caught 13 passes for 206 more.

Baldwin-Wallace (2-0) battles Wittenberg (2-1) under the lights with the winner keeping pace in the OC with Ohio Wesleyan, 3-0, which is outside the conference against Wabash this week.

The others: Wooster at Kenyon; Oberlin at Denison; Muskingum at Capital; Otterbein at Marietta; Hiram at Mount Union (N); Defiance at Bluffton; Ashland at Heidelberg; Wilmington at Case; Ferris State at Findlay; West Virginia State at Central State; South Dakota State at Youngstown; Adelbert at John Carroll; Xavier at Villanova and Northwood Institute at Ohio Northern.

OSU Non-Academic Workers To Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A strike by more than 1,000 non-academic employees at Ohio State University appeared imminent today with union and university officials deadlocked over the issue of outside contracting.

Officials of Local 138, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees were to meet in executive session today before presenting their recommendations to a membership meeting tonight.

Bill Hobbs of the Texas Aggies intercepted seven passes last season and carried two of them across for touchdowns.

That pushed the U.S. collection of golds to 37 and a total of 88. Russia, meanwhile, managed only one gold, giving them 16 for the Games and a total of 53.

The United States will be favored in two of the three swimming finals tonight, but the attention will be riveted on the American basketball team's game with Yugoslavia for the Olympic title.

The game will be telecast live to the United States by ABC-TV. The team, shunned by such collegiate standouts as Lew Alcindor, Elvin Hayes and Don May, has been forged into a tightly knit precision crew by Coach Henry Iba.

The United States hasn't lost a game, much less the gold medal, since the sport was introduced into the Olympics in 1936, but Iba's team faces a major challenge in the Yugoslavs, who gained the finals by beating Russia.

Three new controversial issues broke Thursday.

Sweden was stripped of its bronze medal in modern pentathlon.

The Olympic Organizing Committee announced that only six representatives from each country will march in the closing ceremonies, a break in tradition.

In all recent Olympics, the entire contingents from all competing countries have marched in the colorful ceremony.

American freestyle wrestling Coach Tom Evans, leveled charges that some matches were thrown.

The U.S. Olympic Committee continues to investigate rumors of under the counter payoffs by manufacturers to athletes to use and display the manufacturers' products.

Sweden had to give up its bronze medal in modern pentathlon because one team member, Hans Gunnar Liljenvall, was found to have exceeded his alcohol intake before the shooting event.

France was awarded the medal.

The Organizing Committee gave no reason for its action in curtailing the number of athletes.

Many athletes objected vehemently.

Jesse Owens, who won four gold medals in the 1936 Games and here as a special member of the U.S. Olympic Committee, was equally dismayed.

"I haven't heard the reasons they made this decision," Owens said, "but I'm sure they must be good ones. Yet, I can't help thinking something important is being lost."

Montezuma's Revenge Hurts U.S. Olympic Cage Chances

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The United States basketball team was more worried about Montezuma's Revenge today than it was about Yugoslavia, the Yanks' rival in the 1968 Olympic basketball showdown tonight.

Montezuma's Revenge is the nickname tagged by foreigners on diarrhea, and towering Spencer Haywood was hit by the ailment Thursday night.

"I think he'll play, but he's real sick," said Coach Hank Iba, whose attack hinges on the rebounding and shooting of the 6-foot-8 junior college star from Detroit.

"We hope he'll be all right by game time," added Iba, who is out to keep intact the United States' record of never having lost an Olympic basketball game.

Bengals Get Set For Tough Game Against Raiders

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Paul Brown will observe the Oakland Raiders in action for the first time in his life Sunday but he knows what to expect when his Cincinnati Bengals encounter the defending champions of the American Football League.

There will be passes and the promise of passes—mostly from the hand of Daryl Lamonica.

Brown said the Bengals were in good shape for the California trip.

"I've never seen Oakland play, even when I lived in San Diego," he said. "... They throw it well, have good receivers and excellent pass protection."

"They're solid — not fancy, just fundamentally sound."

Dewey Warren probably will get the nod at starting quarterback for the Bengals who are hoping to break a four-game losing streak. They're now 2-3 for the season.

Oakland has had its share of trouble, losing its last two games at the hands of Kansas City and San Diego.

"All that's happened to Oakland is that they just lost two games to two great teams," Brown said. "They think of themselves as champions and they're obviously humiliated."

Brown sees Oakland's ground threat in the form of fullback Hewitt Dixon, the AFL's top rusher with an average of five yards per carry in 104 trips.

"The other coaches say he's the best running back in the league — and I'm sure of it," commented Brown.

Cincinnati dropped a 24-22 decision to Miami last Sunday. Warren, who took over from John Stofa, completed 10 of 11 passes for 150 yards and was instrumental in the Bengals' first two touchdowns.

Brown said lack of experience has hurt the Bengals, especially the offensive line. "But we're satisfied with our young linemen. We are going to stay with them. Most of these guys... you'll never know 'em in two or three years."

Analyzing the first half of season play of his expansion team, Brown said he felt the club actually had lost but three games. "Well we won two—and I feel like we gave two away." He didn't say which two.

Shocker So Far; 2 Others Play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When the Los Angeles Lakers acquired Wilt Chamberlain to team with Elgin Baylor and Jerry West, the National Basketball Association race took on aspects of a runaway.

So the opening week has proved shocking. Los Angeles stands 1-3 as they approach their first home game tonight. "It's brought us to reality," says Coach Bill van Breda Kolff.

The Lakers have lost at Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Detroit while downing the Knickerbockers at New York.

The Phoenix Suns, one of the NBA's new teams this year, upset New York 109-92 at Phoenix in one of two NBA games scheduled Thursday night. In the other game at San Diego, Baltimore beat San Diego 119-115.

Browns Seen Taking Game

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — With Bill Nelsen firmly installed as quarterback and Ernie Green once again bolstering the running attack, the Cleveland Browns are big favorites to beat the Atlanta Falcons Sunday.

Before last Sunday's contest at Baltimore, Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier was talking about splitting the passing duties between Nelsen and Frank Ryan.

But since the upset victory over the Colts there has been no more talk of a half-Nelsen approach.

Green gained only 12 yards in five carries against the Colts in his first game since injuring his knee Aug. 9. But teammates said his blocking and general "know-how" gave the offense a big boost.

The Falcons have lost five of their six games but gave the Los Angeles Rams a jolt last Sunday when they shut them out in the first half while piling up a 14-point lead. The rugged Rams bounced back in the second half, though, for a 27-14 victory.

Falcon Coach Norm Van Brocklin hasn't announced his full starting cast for Sunday, but he has indicated he will go with Bob Berry at quarterback. Berry took over two weeks ago after Randy Johnson was injured and piloted the team to their first victory, over New York.

St. Louis Blues

Top Bruins 1-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What a difference 28 seconds make. Like the difference between first and fourth places for the St. Louis Blues in the National Hockey League's West Division.

The Blues were trailing the Boston Bruins 1-0 late in the third period when Gary Sabourin and Ab McDonald scored in a span of 28 seconds to give them a victory. Bobby Orr scored for Boston in the first period when the Blues were two men short.

Quarter Horse

Congress Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The All American Quarter Horse Congress, which returns to Ohio for the second consecutive year next week, is adding a pari-mutuel betting to this year's event.

Promoters say it is the first quarter horse racing under pari-mutuel betting east of the Mississippi River. The quarter horse is modern man's link with the old wild west.

Grid Forecaster Picks Rams Over Colts

by Cleveland last week, can't handle the challenge of the on-rushing Los Angeles Rams in Baltimore, they can forget about any Super Bowl cash. A win for the Rams would put them on easy street.

The Colts have to be a team with a mission. The Rams tied them in Baltimore last year and then shattered their dreams of a perfect season by beating them in Los Angeles 34-10.

Toss in a Green Bay-Dallas rematch in the Cotton Bowl on national television (CBS) Monday night, and you have the makings of a weekend that could knock out a groggy picker.

Last week's record was a shaky 7-5-1 with 5-2-1 in the NFL and 2-3 in the AFL for 41-22-2 on the season. Let's try to do better. All games are Sunday, unless otherwise indicated.

NFL

Los Angeles 23, Baltimore 20—Rams' offense ordinary but Roman Gabriel is hitting Billy Truax with consistency and that defense is turning quarterbacks gray. Colts are extra tough at home, despite upset by Browns. They'll be sky high for this one. Rams have won 14 straight in regular season.

Dallas 27, Green Bay 21 (Monday night)—Somehow, some way you have a hunch the Packers will find a way to pull it out but the figures say Dallas on a more explosive attack. Return Don't forget Cowboys never of Bart Starr narrows the gap, have beaten Pack when it counted. Green Bay won exhibition 31-27.

Minnesota 24, Chicago 17—The Bears won in Minnesota 27-17. Now it's the Vikings' turn despite erratic air game. Chicago went with ex-taxi squad quarterback, Virgil Carter, and sneaked past Eagles. Only a super show by Gale Sayers can turn this around.

St. Louis 24, New Orleans 23—The Cards just squeaked home in first meeting 21-20 after trailing 17-0 at the start of the last quarter. But St. Louis is coming on behind Jim Hart and Willis Crenshaw is hot. San Francisco 23, Detroit 21—The pick here is an upset although the game is in Detroit. The 49ers have a well-balanced attack that can pressure Bill Munson. Lions' Mel Farr is big threat and Earl McCulloch will test 49ers deep defense.

New York 34, Washington 28—Giants romped in first game 48-21 when Fran Tarkenton was healthy and club still was unbeaten.

Cleveland 24, Atlanta 17—Bill Nelsen fitting in groove as No. 1 quarterback and Ernie Green is back to give Leroy Kelly some help.

Pittsburgh 21, Philadelphia 17—Something has to give. Each has lost six in a row. Everybody runs on the Eagles so why not Dick Hoak.

AFL

New York 24, Boston 13—Joe Namath shook off interception jitters and led Jets to win in

Grid Forecaster Picks Rams Over Colts

Houston with flawless 80-yard march in closing minutes. Mike Taliaferro will find old mates tough to handle as in earlier 47-31 Jet win at Birmingham where Namath was intercepted four times.

Oakland 31, Cincinnati 10—Raiders must be ready to explode after dropping two in a row to Chargers and Chiefs. Paul Brown's Bengals have lost four straight after early success.

Houston 21, Buffalo 10—Much depends on condition of Oilers after tough loss to Jets. Buffalo defense weak against running game and Bills' attack packs no punch.

Miami 17, Denver 14—Despite 2-3-1 record Dolphins still have outside chance in Eastern race with Bob Griese on the beam. Broncos' hopes depend on condition of Steve Tensi, hurt again last week in San Diego game.

Kansas City 23, San Diego 20

What surprises will Hank Stram have for Sid Gillman after springing old tight-T on Raiders? Johnny Hadl, Chargers' quarterback, only passer in league over .500 in passing. But

Group Of Texas Priests Asks Removal Of Leader

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A group of 51 priests has asked for the removal of Archbishop Robert E. Lucey, the spiritual leader of 500,000 Roman Catholics in Texas.

The priests disclosed at a news conference Thursday that their request was sent to Pope Paul VI and other Catholic leaders more than a month ago.

"We are doing it out of love for the church and concern for the people," said the Rev. Louis R. Michalski, 31, spokesman for the group.

Archbishop Lucey, 77, is the chief Catholic official of the 10 Texas dioceses and the Oklahoma City-Tulsa diocese.

There are 448 priests in the San Antonio archdiocese, and controversy has arisen often in recent months.

Father William Killian and Father Sherrill Smith were banished recently to a Catholic re-format in New Mexico, and the priests cited this instance at their news conference.

Also cited as reasons for the request were the archbishop's age, the transfer of priests who had been outspoken and the archbishop's refusal to recognize the 160-member association of priests in the archdiocese. All 51 priests are association members.

"We are like camels crossing an increasingly arid desert upon whose back has just been placed the proverbial last straw," the letter to the Pope said.

FBI Joins Hunt For Ex-Convict

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The FBI has joined in the manhunt for Richard Tingle, 28, the ex-convict charged in the slaying of two Columbus teen-agers last Sunday.

A federal warrant was filed Thursday charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. Tingle's car was found Wednesday in Cleveland.

Susan Pack, 18, and James Stevens, 14, were shot to death Sunday night at the dairy store where they worked. Tingle worked there recently at a downtown department store.

POW Letters From Hanoi Restricted

NEW YORK (AP) — The mother of an Air Force pilot imprisoned in North Vietnam said Thursday he and fellow captives are limited to four lines dealing with their health and families in their infrequent letters home.

Mrs. Harold H. Temperley, Newton, Mass., mother of captured Capt. Russell E. Temperley, was one of those who has received letters passed along by a Brazilian newspaper after a visit to a Hanoi prison for American fliers.

Temperley's letter said: "Dear Mother. We have just celebrated Vietnamese Independence Day, which is similar to our Labor Day. We had a duck dinner. My health is still very good. I hope you and my sisters are well. Give my love to all, and mother, I love you."

Mrs. Temperley said the letter, the fifth she has received from her son, was written like the others on a stationery bearing instructions on what may be discussed and specifying that prisoners may address mail only to their next of kin.

Exact-Fare Plan Set In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Transit Board Thursday adopted an exact fare plan to go into effect Nov. 3 and eliminate the need for drivers, frequently the victims of armed holdups, to carry cash.

Drivers will give passengers refund slips in lieu of change for amounts up to a $1, the board said.

Various Citizen Committees Work For Their Candidates

East German Secret Trials Are Launched

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany has launched a series of secret trials of dissenters who objected to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in which East German forces took part, authoritative sources reported today.

The sources said that Horst Bonnet, stage director at the East Berlin Comic Opera, had been sentenced to 2½ years in prison for distributing leaflets protesting the invasion.

They said additional trials might involve 20 or more persons, among them the 16-year-old and 19-year-old sons of scientist Robert Havemann. The father lost his membership in the Communist party and his post at East Berlin's Humboldt University in 1964 for his independent views on how socialism should develop.

Sources in the Czechoslovak Embassy in East Berlin say the Aug. 21 Warsaw Pact blitz on Prague produces a wave of sympathy and other demonstrations of support by individual East Germans for the cause of liberalism in Czechoslovakia.

East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht was in the forefront of those demanding that the liberalization drive in Czechoslovakia be halted. He feared it would spread to the East German people.

Ulbricht declared that a cultural liberalization such as occurred in Czechoslovakia would not be tolerated in East Germany.

Group Of Texas Priests Asks Removal Of Leader

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A group of 51 priests has asked for the removal of Archbishop Robert E. Lucey, the spiritual leader of 500,000 Roman Catholics in Texas.

The priests disclosed at a news conference Thursday that their request was sent to Pope Paul VI and other Catholic leaders more than a month ago.

"We are doing it out of love for the church and concern for the people," said the Rev. Louis R. Michalski, 31, spokesman for the group.

Archbishop Lucey, 77, is the chief Catholic official of the 10 Texas dioceses and the Oklahoma City-Tulsa diocese.

There are 448 priests in the San Antonio archdiocese, and controversy has arisen often in recent months.

Father William Killian and Father Sherrill Smith were banished recently to a Catholic re-

format in New Mexico, and the priests cited this instance at their news conference.

Also cited as reasons for the request were the archbishop's age, the transfer of priests who had been outspoken and the archbishop's refusal to recognize the 160-member association of priests in the archdiocese. All 51 priests are association members.

"We are like camels crossing an increasingly arid desert upon whose back has just been placed the proverbial last straw," the letter to the Pope said.

FBI Joins Hunt For Ex-Convict

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The FBI has joined in the manhunt for Richard Tingler, 28, the ex-convict charged in the slaying of two Columbus teen-agers last Sunday.

A federal warrant was filed Thursday charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. Tingler's car was found Wednesday in Cleveland.

Susan Pack, 18, and James Stevens, 14, were shot to death Sunday night at the dairy store where they worked. Tingler worked here recently at a downtown department store.

POW Letters From Hanoi Restricted

NEW YORK (AP) — The mother of an Air Force pilot imprisoned in North Vietnam said Thursday he and fellow captives are limited to four lines dealing with their health and families in their infrequent letters home.

Mrs. Harold H. Temperley, Newton, Mass., mother of captured Capt. Russell E. Temperley, was one of those who has received letters passed along by a Brazilian newspaper after a visit to a Hanoi prison for American fliers.

Temperley's letter said: "Dear Mother. We have just celebrated Vietnamese Independence Day, which is similar to our Labor Day. We had a duck dinner. My health is still very good. I hope you and my sisters are well. Give my love to all, and mother, I love you."

Mrs. Temperley said the letter, the fifth she has received from her son, was written like the others on a stationery bearing instructions on what may be discussed and specifying that prisoners may address mail only to their next of kin.

Exact-Fare Plan Set In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Transit Board Thursday adopted an exact fare plan to go into effect Nov. 3 and eliminate the need for drivers, frequently the victims of armed holdups, to carry cash.

Drivers will give passengers refund slips in lieu of change for amounts up to a $1, the board said.

Various Citizen Committees Work For Their Candidates

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — These are the days of the Citizens Committee for — (fill in the name of the candidate of your choice), a phenomenon which gives special interest and professional groups an opportunity to work for the candidate that best represents their views.

Members of the committees are volunteers, ordinary citizens and not in politics, put together in loosely organized nationwide groups coordinated from Washington.

Both Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon have them by the dozens, more than 40 professional and special interest groups each. And this excludes the nationality groups which both sides say are too numerous to count. In contrast, no similar committees could be found in Washington for George C. Wallace.

Both sides also say that because the committees are so loosely organized, their memberships cannot be accurately calculated. Various estimates of the size of the Pharmacists Committee for Nixon-Agnew, for example, ranged from 15 all the way to 20,000.

Nixon has the support of the Cosmetologists Committee for Nixon-Agnew. Humphrey counters with Beauticians for Humphrey-Muskie.

Humphrey has the Older Americans Committee; Nixon's got Senior Citizens.

Nixon has life insurance people. Humphrey has the life underwriters.

Both claim agriculture committees, conservationists committees, dentists committees, educators committees, lawyers, mayors, pharmacists, physicians, scientists, veterans, young adults, and on and on.

However Humphrey has nothing to match the Service Station attendants for Nixon-Agnew.

PICCA Program Seeks Workers Over 60 Years

PICCA (Pickaway County Community Action) will share in hiring 10 persons over 60 years to work as foster grandparents at Orient State Institute.

The program is the result of a $77,000 Office of Economic Opportunity grant to the Bureau of Mental Retardation of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction.

The foster grandparents will work with children at Orient Institute in many capacities. They will work four hours per day.

Applicants should contact the PICCA office, Memorial Hall, 165 E. Main St., for an interview. Another interview will be conducted by the Orient staff.

Income of those applying cannot exceed the guidelines set by the OEO. Plans call for the program to be in operation by December. Funds are now allotted to run through July 1, 1969.
